U.S., Panama Form Agency With OAS to Assure Peace

5-Man Delegation Seeks Agreement on Technical Details in Discussions

BY JOE MCGOWAN
PANAMA (AP)—Amid some signs of diminishing tension between the United States and Panama, U.S. personnel returned today to the embassy building in downtown Panama to build on the peace-keeping operation. Diplomatic sources reported that the United States and Panama agreed to set up a joint authority with the Organization of American States in an effort to keep peace along the restive Canal Zone border.

But agreement on machinery for the peace-keeping operation remained to be worked out in a final meeting of the OAS mission with U.S. and Panama representatives before the mission returns to Washington.

Treaty Assailed
U.S. personnel quit the embassy building and burned secret papers Saturday, fearing that the building might become a target for anti-U.S. demonstrations.

Panama has broken relations with the United States and demanded guarantees for revision of the 61-year-old Panama Canal treaty in the wake of U.S.-Panamanian clashes on the Canal Zone border.

The five-man delegation from the OAS arranged for a final meeting today to settle technical details for the peace authority proposed by Argentina.

Informants said the United States and Panama would each have one military man and one civilian on the authority, with a neutral OAS representative as chairman. Alfredo Vazquez Car-

Public Reaction Is Awaited on Smoking Data

Legislation Sought For Strong Controls Over Ads and Sales

BY JOHN BARBOUR
WASHINGTON (AP)—The American smoker—still lingering over the grim facts of a federal report branding cigarettes a health hazard—is center stage to a big audience this week.

Legislators, investors, tobacco growers, cigarette manufacturers, legal and health authorities want to know first and foremost: Will he quit or not? Will he cut down? What will happen to cigarette sales?

Just how loud will the public reaction to the federal report be?

Discuss Advertising
On those questions hinge a number of important decisions in coming days.

The tobacco companies have been invited to meet with the Television Code Review Board in Miami Beach Jan. 22-23. Subject: The federal report and what it means to cigarette advertising on television.

The American Cancer Society's board of directors meets this month to assess education campaigns against cigarette smoking, called by the federal report the major cause of lung cancer, the leading fatal malignancy in men.

Test in Courts
Several bills will be introduced designed to better arm federal agencies to regulate the sale and advertising of cigarette labeling of cigarettes as potentially hazardous.

Federal courts may be the scene of another test of the scientific report. Will it encourage further damage suits against tobacco companies by lung cancer victims?

Drifts Block Roads, Strand Motorists; Some Communities Isolated; New Storms Feared

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A massive snowstorm, described by the Weather Bureau as the winter's worst, snarled across the eastern United States today.

Numerous highways were blocked, hundreds of motorists stranded and communities isolated as gale-force winds piled the snow into drifts as much as 10 feet deep.

From two to five inches of snow has fallen on greater New York and up to six inches were expected before the storm blows out to sea this afternoon.

The Weather Bureau in Washington issued a heavy snow warning for New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and all but the northern part of New England.

Big Drifts Pile Up
Western Pennsylvania received from 5 to 10 inches of snow which began falling Sunday afternoon and was still coming down Monday morning.

Huge snow drifts were piled up by 50-mile-an-hour winds in central Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The Weather Bureau urged motorists in the Midwest and East to stay off the highways in storm areas or run the risk of becoming snowbound in near-zero weather.

That fate already has befallen hundreds of motorists.

In Illinois, some 500 motorists became overnight guests of the 1,200 citizens of Neoga, a farm community which opened the local American Legion hall and Masonic Temple to accommodate stranded travelers.

In Indiana and Ohio, other hundreds of motorists abandoned autos on snow clogged highways and sought shelter at service stations, road houses and farms.

Springfield, the capital of Illinois, was virtually isolated with only one main highway into the city open. A few miles south of Springfield, 25 Boy Scouts on a weekend camping trip awaited rescue today at their snowbound camp site.

Schools were closed in the suburbs of Washington, D.C., while in the nation's capital, stringent snow plans which forbid motorists to block traffic or park on main streets being plowed were put into effect.

Hundreds of schools in the Midwest, Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania were closed.

The gigantic storm system—which began as two separate storms, one from the Midwest moving East and the other moving northeast along the Atlantic states—generated high tides and gale force winds along the Atlantic coastal regions.

The snow and ice dipped into the South. Light snow and freezing rain were reported in Tennessee, North Carolina, Alabama and Georgia.

West of the Mississippi, clear skies and cold temperatures were the rule. Below zero temperatures prevailed over much of the northern and central plains states and the western interior.

Plane Crashes With Nuclear Arms Aboard

Crew of 5 Perishes As Plane Crashes And Burns in Storm

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—A huge jet bomber of the Strategic Air Command carrying two unarmed nuclear weapons and a crew of five crashed and burned in the Appalachian Mountains today.

"There is no danger of nuclear explosion," said Air Force officials, adding that explosive experts were en route to the scene.

The eight-engine B52 fell to earth in a blinding snowstorm at the foot of Big Savage Mountain in western Maryland, about 20 miles west of Cumberland. It was en route from Westover Air Force Base, Mass., to its home station at Turner Air Force Base, Ga.

"There is no need of evacuation," said the Air Force announcement from Westover AFB.

Weapons Unarmed
The Air Force explained that an unarmed nuclear weapon contains nuclear material but cannot explode until a crewman takes action to activate it.

State Troopers put a security ring around the wreckage.

The Air Force said three teams of experienced explosive ordnance disposal teams were dispatched from Westover, Turner and Andrews Air Force Base, Md., but said this was routine.

The swept-wing SAC bomber was returning to its base in Georgia from a bomber alert training mission, the 8th Air Force announcement said, and landed at Westover because of weather conditions.

It took the troopers from Cumberland five hours to reach the rugged, isolated area at the foot of the 2,780-foot mountain.

13 Men Injured In Milwaukee Tunnel Explosion

MILWAUKEE (AP)—An explosion in a storm sewer tunnel injured 13 construction workers today and shattered windows in nearby buildings.

The cause of the blast in the 18-foot diameter tunnel 45 feet underground was not immediately determined. Authorities were investigating a report that an accumulation of gas was ignited when a welder lit his torch.

Most of the injured persons suffered burns and abrasions. Ten were taken to County General Hospital, three to St. Mary's Hospital.

The injured were employed by a construction firm which is excavating a tunnel under North 46th Street for a storm sewer that will extend some two miles, emptying into the Menomonee River. The explosion occurred about 685 feet into the tunnel.

Anthony Olson, 62, a district clerk at the yardmaster's office of the Milwaukee Road, some four blocks away, said he heard the blast shortly before 9 a.m. and thought it was a sonic boom.

The dead children were David, 11; Roxanne, 10; Alice Jean, 9; Daniel, 7; Margaret, 6; Virginia, 4; Tracy Lee, 2 and Nicky, 10 months.

Their father, David D. Johnson, was on an oyster boat in the Atlantic Ocean at the time.

Wants More Soviet Aid?

Castro Pays Surprise Visit to Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro arrived today on a surprise visit to Premier Khrushchev with more Soviet economic aid for Cuba, presumably his aim.

The Cuban leader may have trouble getting an increase in help. Khrushchev is spending hundreds of millions of dollars to buy wheat from Canada, Australia and the United States, and he has embarked on a massive expansion of the Soviet chemical industry.

Khrushchev gave Castro the same red carpet welcome as last April, when Castro visited the Soviet Union for five weeks. The Soviet premier was at the airport along with other officials.

Castro said his visit would be considerably shorter than his stay last year because he had to return to Cuba for the sugar harvest now under way.

Surprise Visit
His visit took Western diplomatic colony and the State Department in Washington by surprise. So were the Cuban people who, hours after his departure, had not been informed.

A communique said Khrushchev had invited Castro "to exchange opinions on questions of interest to both sides and also to rest."

A Cuban economic delegation has been in Moscow for 11 days, reportedly asking for a big increase in aid. It seemed likely that Castro came to add his pleas to the delegation's.

It also appeared likely that Khrushchev and Castro would join in a denunciation of U.S. policy in Panama. U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Sunday that Castro is partly to blame for the rioting along the border of the Panama Canal Zone.

Sultan of Zanzibar Ousted in Rebellion

Republic Proclaimed After Revolt by Nationalists

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—Shooting and looting were reported today on Zanzibar, newest member of the British Commonwealth whose Arab government was overthrown by African nationalists.

The ousted sultan, Seyyid Jamshid Bin Abdulla, was believed to be fleeing up the coast in his yacht, leaving the republic in the hands of his political foes after Sunday's coup.

Frederick P. Picard, U.S. consul in Zanzibar, said by telephone the situation is still delicate and he is trying to get 21 U.S. women and children removed from the island nation off Africa's east coast.

There are 57 Americans stationed at a tracking station for the Project Mercury satellite program. They appeared in no immediate danger but Picard told the U.S. Embassy in Dar es Salaam he wanted to get the dependents on the destroyer Manley cruising offshore.

Civilians feared there might be repercussions if the destroyer docked. The rebel government has declared a state of emergency and warned all ships to keep clear of Zanzibar's territorial waters.

A broadcast by the revolutionary regime's radio, styling itself "The Freedom Fighters of Zanzibar," said several persons were killed in the fighting that broke out Saturday night and raged into Sunday.

Two policemen were killed when the African nationalists stormed the armory, the broadcast said. Another policeman was reported killed defending the home of the ousted prime minister, Mohammed Shante Hamadi.

Hamadi was believed to be with the sultan.

By late Sunday night the rebels were reported to have seized control of all but one strategic

New Massacres Reported

Theft of Relic From Mohammed Cause Hindu-Moslem Outbreaks

BY HENRY S. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The theft of a sacred Moslem relic in Kashmir has mushroomed into the worst outbreak of Hindu-Moslem violence since hundreds of thousands were killed in the 1947 massacres that followed partitioning of the Indian subcontinent.

Hindus are killing Moslems in Calcutta, India's largest city, and Moslems are killing Hindus in villages of East Pakistan, just east of Calcutta. Both Indian and Pakistani governments are reluctant to disclose the full horror of what is happening, partly for fear that the violence will spread.

Death Toll May Grow
The official death toll in the Calcutta area was 75 Sunday. Unconfirmed reports circulating in responsible quarters in Calcutta indicate the number is far higher.

The highest figure responsibly reported from East Pakistan is 29 deaths. But Hindu refugees reaching Calcutta have indicated the number is greater.

Hatred between Hindus and Moslems has long existed in what used to be British India. It stems from economic and power rivalries as well as religious differences.

Millions Leave Homes
When the British prepared to give India independence, the Moslems demanded a separate nation. Pakistan was carved in two pieces out of the subcontinent.

Many Hindus found themselves living in Pakistan or Moslems in India. Millions left their ancestral homes to migrate. In the mass transfer, hundreds of thousands were killed in an orgy of vengeful communal warfare.

Some 10 per cent of India's 440 million people are Moslems, and millions of Hindus remain in East Pakistan. There have been periodic outbreaks of violence in both countries.

Theft of Relic
None has been as bad as what began last week. It was touched off by the theft Dec. 26 in Srinagar, capital of the Indian-controlled part of Kashmir, of a hair believed to be from the head of the Prophet Mohammed. Demonstrations in predominantly Moslem Srinagar turned against the government rather than taking a violently religious turn.

Pakistani officials charged the theft was part of an effort to subjugate Kashmir's Moslems. They refused to believe the Indian announcement Jan. 4 that the hair had been found.

At Khulna, East Pakistan, 75 miles east of Calcutta, a demonstration protested against the theft. What happened next is unclear, but there was violence.

The Pakistani government denied the violence was of a religious nature. But Calcutta newspapers began publishing reports from refugees that Moslems had butchered Hindus because of the prophet's hair.

That set Calcutta aflame. History indicates the frenzy will pass off soon. But history also indicates it will return again.

Newman, MacLaine Take '63 More Honors

Multiple Honors Go to Paramount's 'Hud'
In Annual Magazine Poll of Critics

Paul Newman and Shirley MacLaine gave the best performances in motion pictures during 1963 in the opinion of the nation's critics.

Results of the annual Film Daily's Famous Fives poll of newspaper and magazine critics and reviewers and television commentators on movies conducted by The Film Daily, the industry's international newspaper, were announced here tonight.

Paul Newman was selected on the basis of his hard-as-nails portrayal of the insensitive Hud Bannon in Paramount's production of "Hud."

Miss MacLaine's performance as the prostitute with a heart of gold in the title role of United Artists' "Irma La Douce" brought her accolades from the voting critics.

"Hud" made a further impact upon the country's professional writers and commentators, who voted it Best Screenplay of the Year with a nod to writers Irving Ravetch and Harriet Frank, Jr., and who further acclaimed Melvyn Douglas as the Year's Best Supporting Actor for his role as Homer Bannon in that picture.

Newman proved a strong lead from the first, polling almost twice as many votes as the second place winner, Jack Lemmon. The latter played Nestor Patou, cop turned "business" manager, in "Irma La Douce."

Close behind were Rex Harrison as Julius Caesar in 20th-Fox's "Cleopatra," Peter O'Toole as T. E. Lawrence in Columbia's "Lawrence of Arabia," and Sidney Poitier as Homer Smith in United Artists' "Lilies of the Field."

Leslie Caron, who plays Jane in Columbia's "The L-Shaped Room" and who won the British equivalent of our Academy Award for Best Actress for that role last year, took an early lead in the voting for best performance by a female star, but she was eventually submerged but to "Hud." Brandon de Wach in an avalanche of late votes Wilde, in the important role of for Shirley MacLaine, who shot Lon Bannan, the balance wheel of the drama, rounded out the Famous Fives in this category. Certainly the most popular choice of all among the critics this year was the performance of Margaret Rutherford as the wonderfully muddled Duchess of Brighton in M-G-M's "The V.I.P.s." She took an early lead in the best supporting actress category and held it all the way, polling more votes than any other performer named anywhere in the poll.

Patricia Neal, another pillar of the towering "Hud," was named second in this category for her portrayal of Alma. Thelma Ritter in Paramount's "A New Kind of Love," Maggie Smith in MGM's "The V.I.P.s," and Wendy Hiller in United Artists' "Toys In the Attic" were also much admired.

Future Stars
The finds of the year category is always one of the most interesting, for it points the way to the stars of the future. Keir Dullea, whose sensitive portrayal of David in Continental Distributing's "David And Lisa" brought him to the attention of moviegoers during 1963, edged out a formidable opponent—the inscrutable James Bond—for No. 1 position in this popular category. James Bond, of course, is really Sean Connery and can be seen in United Artists' "Dr. No."

Mary Badham, portraying Scout Finch in Universal's "To Kill A Mockingbird," easily captured best performance by a juvenile for her remarkable job in that picture and was named in third place among the year's finds.

Her co-star and film-brother, Jem, as enacted by young Philip Alford, took second place in the best juveniles category. The knowing casting by Alfred Hitchcock accounted for two of this year's finds. "Tippi" Hedren and Suzanne Pleshette, both appearing in his production of "The Birds" for Universal, were tapped by the critics for future stardom.

Director Frank Perry in addition to find of the year Continental Distributing's "David And Lisa" also boasts this year's best director, Frank Perry. In his very first movie assignment, Perry won over such old pros as John Sturges for United Artists' "The Great Escape."

David Lean for Columbia's "Lawrence Of Arabia" and Billy Wilder for United Artists' "Irma La Douce." The category was rounded out by Martin Ritt for his fine direction of — what else? — "Hud."

The critics cited "Lawrence Of Arabia" as the best photographed picture of the year. It was the work of F. A. Young. In addition the excellent photography by Leon Shamroy for "Cleopatra," by Robert Burks for "The Birds," by Charles Lawton for "Spencer's Mountain," and by Walter Lassally for "Tom Jones" — all photographed in color — were highly praised.

Although "Hud" easily won best screenplay, repeating its fifth New York Film Critics accolade, there was a close contest for titles figured in this year's win-the number two spot with Horne's, an amazingly low number for Foote's adaptation of "To Kill A Mockingbird" and Elea-

Outer Limits Tries Comedy In Mars Show

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — The Outer Limits tries its first comedy with great success. "Controlled Experiment" sends Martian Senior Inspector Barry Morse to earth with a miniaturized temporal condenser and he enlists the help of Martian Caretaker Carroll O'Connor in his scientific study of an earth phenomenon called murder. This is a pilot for a half-hour series. If the others kept up the standards set here, it would be a welcome addition.

6:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Movie buffs will have a fine time as Monday Night at the Movies shows "Singin' in the Rain," a fast and funny musical with Gene Kelly and Donald O'Connor dancing in a storm, and Jean Hagen very funny as a dumb movie star. (Color)

7:30-8 (Channel 2) — Lucille Ball's fans have a treat when The Lucy Show's nonsensical script forces Lucy to stick her face in a faceless painting of the Mona Lisa.

7:30-9 (Channel 11) — Wagon Train plods its way along a well-rutted path into tedium. On one hand we have a famous lawman, who was a teen-aged train robber. On the other hand we have his brother, also a robber who has done time. (Color)

8-8:30 (Channel 2) — Bernard Fox, as Alfie the waiter, is in the spotlight on The Danny Thomas Show, in what is a spin-off for a series for Fox. Working with him (Danny appears briefly) is Ross Martin, as a fast-talking, gambling man who needs money so badly he has to convince roomie Fox that he has already eaten all his meals.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — Don Knotts walks away with The Andy Griffith Show again. The plot focus is on Opie's new-found friend, and his ultimate jealousy, but it's all an excuse for Don to reminisce about the time he and Andy were kids.

9-10 (Channel 11) — Breaking Point's script would be good if you had never seen a head-shrinker in action. But viewers will be way ahead of Paul Richards in trying to figure out why James Daly's hand becomes paralyzed whenever he gets too near a Japanese, and why his marriage to a doll-like Japanese hasn't worked.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — Sing arrested as a chiseler.

9-10 (Channel 2) — East Side West Side's weekly excursion into seaminess lets George C. Scott get made at welfare regulations when Kathleen Maguire, the mother of three and the wife of addict Tim O'Connor, moonlights a job to add to her income and keep her husband in fixes, and thus gets herself

Teens Fight Polio With Song and Dance

Polio attacks young people, but the situation was reversed Saturday and Sunday as the youth of the Fox Cities turned their time and talents to an attack on polio and birth defects.

Slated for the March of Dimes were the proceeds of a hootenanny held Saturday evening at the Appleton High School gym, sponsored by the High School Student Council and the Teens against Polio Committee.

Singers at the program represented Lawrence College, Xavier High School, Neenah High School, Fox Valley Lutheran High School and St. Mary High School, Menasha. Such favorites as "Blowin' in the Wind" and "Rock Island Line" were included in the presentations, with members of the audience donating to the 'cause' to hear special requests.

Marshall Granros was master of ceremonies for the event.

Sunday afternoon students braved the cold to distribute fresh bread around the city. Donations above cost also went to the March of Dimes.

Fox Valley Lutheran High School's contribution to the musical program at the March of Dimes Hootenanny Saturday evening was The Four Winds. Entertaining the audience at the Appleton High School gym are Dale Lueck, Bill Neubauer, Mark Dahlke and Bill Gresens. Below, Kathy Yingling, right, serves pop to Nancy Greenwalt and Mike Nystrom.

Lynn Abitz and Pat Mindel joined the rest of the audience in joyful beat as the young people of the Fox Cities hit the drums against polio and birth defects Saturday evening. At left, Mary LeFever and Jerry Kurtyka of Xavier High School perform during the program. At right, Mark Bradish, Neenah High School, awaits his turn on the platform. After the show, the young men and women danced at St. Mary School gym.

SEAMS TO ME

By Patricia Scott

Questions On Sewing

Q. When making a covered belt, I have trouble finishing the pointed end. How can I do this so it doesn't look lumpy and out of shape?—MISS M. F.

A. Follow the diagram: After you have cut a point at one end of belting, cut the belt fabric  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch wider and  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch longer than your belting. First turn under the long edges of belting on the fabric. To finish the point, the diagram can explain it much better than I can in words. Simply turn the side

Q. How do you suggest finishing seams on a Jersey dress? They seem to curl a bit if left unfinished.—MRS. P. L.

A. You can overcast by hand, use a zigzag machine stitch, or bind with bias tape. You can also edge-stitch the seam allowance  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch from the edge and then pink the edge. I also recommend that you finish the waistline seams by taping them to prevent stretching.

In response to requests for reprints of her series on slipcovers, Patricia Scott has compiled them in booklet form. How to Make Slipcovers. For your copy of this helpful booklet, write to Miss Scott in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

When a punch is headed in your direction, don't waste your time feeling sorry for yourself. Learn to soften the blow by rolling with the punch.

Q. I have a dress form. Is it better to fit garments on it or my figure?—MRS. L. O.

A. I prefer the figure. It's much more accurate; the figure moves and the form is just stiff.

Q. Please tell me the proper stitch length and tension to use when sewing on velvet.—MRS. L. B.

A. About 10-12 stitches per inch. The tension should be on the light side. Test a sample swatch before starting on your garment. As you probably know, leaves marks.

Q. Why are corded bound buttonholes so much easier to make on

Altar Society Tells February Plans

HORTONVILLE — The Christian Mothers and Altar Society will have a buffet supper Monday, and South would eventually lose a spade trick.

When this hand was actually played recently, Lou Newman, one of the stars of the Regency Club in Los Angeles, put on a fine exhibition of rolling.

Clears Clubs Newman stepped up with the king of spades at the second trick, cashed the top clubs and ruffed a club. He ruffed a diamond in dummy and then re-turned a trump.

West took the ace of hearts and returned the queen of spades.

This gave East the pleasure of ruffing dummy's ace of spades, but then the party was over thanks to Newman's careful preparations.

East had nothing but diamonds

Irritation High at Tardy Christmas Gift With Price Tag

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It happened for the third time in three years and now I'm completely fed up with this phoney friend.

My Christmas gift from her arrived late, as usual. As always it had a price tag tucked underneath — but in a place where

I was sure to see it. And, as in the past, the price tag was about triple what the thing was worth. She had taken it off something else.

What really burned me up is that on the outside of the package, as big as life, there appeared a sticker which said "sender's own." This means the gift was not purchased in the store. It's something she had at home and brought to the store for gift wrapping and delivery.

I hate to let her think she is getting away with this same lousy stunt year after year.

What shall I do? — Not So Dumb

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is not my problem, because I have no children. I believe, however, it is the problem of all American parents.

I've been distressed by the fact that American teenagers are living on soft drinks, potato chips, pizza, popcorn, candy and ice cream. Such a diet will eventually undermine the health of the nation.

In recent years, parents have been less vigilant about seeing to it that their children have nourishing meals. I've observed many a teen-ager downing a malt and grabbing a hot dog on the run — and that's supposed to be dinner.

Millions of teens read your column daily. Please see if you can get through to them in an area where their parents have failed — Concerned

Dear Concerned: It may appear that the American teenagers are living on junk but it's not true. By and large Americans are still the best fed people in the world.

Teeth and complexions would be better if teens ate fewer sweets, but my major complaint is not what they eat, but their disgraceful failure to exercise. This is where American kids need the shove.

DEAR ANN: I married a divorced man recently. Pete and his first wife had no children but they did have a miniature

Girl Watcher Has Excuse for Study of Faces

BY JAMES CALOGERO
BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Harvey Peck, 26 and single is a girl watcher with a cause: He's looking for the perfect face.

Peck has been studying girls (just their faces: other facets of girl watching are for amateurs) for a year. He still has a year to go on his project. Nonetheless, Peck has reached some tentative conclusions, to wit: "American and international beauties have a tendency toward a toothy, full profile, rather than a straight profile."

"A 'toothy, full profile' is sort of a pout. Perfect examples of the type, says Peck, are Sophia Lorea, Brigitte Bardot and Doris Day.

Lovely Bones
They lack the orthognathic profile, he says. On the other hand there's nothing whatever wrong with the vertical and forward growth of their mandibles.

Or, to put it another way, they don't have straight line profiles, but their jaw bones are lovely, just lovely.

Now Peck wants it understood that a pretty pout is not a prerequisite for beauty. For example, there's Grace Kelly, Elizabeth Taylor and Debbie Reynolds. They have straight line profiles.

So far, Peck has examined the faces of 35 women. None of the aforementioned lovelies was included, but he concentrates on recognized beauties such as models and beauty contest winners.

Guide to Ideal
This is serious work for Peck, a resident orthodontist at the Boston University Medical Center. He says results of his study titled "a photographic and cephalometric study of facial symmetry and balance," may provide orthodontists with a guide to the ideal face.

Peck says it's possible to change the lower face profile of a child up to the age of 14 through orthodontic therapy.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

BRIDE-ELECT IS TROUBLED

Dear Louise: When we began planning our wedding, it was decided that it be quite small, amounting to about 75 people.

We ordered 100 invitations. Both families made up the lists early. After the invitations were mailed, my fiancé's mother called me every night with more names. Time came for me to tell her that there were no more to send and that we didn't feel that we could afford to order another supply.

When my fiance came home for the weekend, his mother told him what happened. He really laid me out saying that I was rude and snippy to his mother and should have sent more invitations so that her feelings wouldn't be hurt. Did I do the wrong thing?

Louise Davis Answers: You weren't wrong, but some- thing is wrong with the whole picture according to your letter.

Your parents and you make the decisions about the wedding, the number of people to be invited, to both ceremony and reception, and execute the plans without any outside help or suggestions. The list compiled by your fiancé's mother should have been as complete as possible when it was submitted. The mother should have been hesitant about adding any more unless you or your mother suggested or encouraged it. I do hope that you were extremely diplomatic explaining to your fiancé's mother that you had run out of invitations. I am surprised that your fiance gave you a dressing down. He should have first listened to your side of the story before jumping at conclusions. I hope he isn't a mama's boy. He and his mother should have learned a few wedding etiquette rules in the beginning.

The Ailing House

Level Off Floor for Tiling

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: We want to finish our basement so that we can use it as a TV room and for occasional guests. The basement is very dry and we have no dampness problem in it. However, the concrete floor is very rough and uneven. We want to put down an asphalt tile floor over this. Is there any material we can use to give us a smooth, even surface?

A: Tile dealers have a floor-leveling compound which is used to level off concrete and wood floors before putting down tile. Instructions for using this material are available from the dealer. If the floor is too uneven and irregular to use this material, a concrete topping can be put down. The Portland Cement Association, 33 W. Grand Ave., Chicago 10, has instruction sheets available on request for laying new concrete floor.

Q: Our foundation wall in the basement is built of brick. The mortar between the bricks seems very sandy and is falling out. Would painting the walls remedy this?

A: It is worthless to try rescuing too-sandy mortar with paint. The mortar was improperly mixed originally, but you may be able to preserve it by treating it with liquid cement hardener, available at masonry supplies and some large hardware stores. If unsuccessful, then the only practical remedy is to rake out the loose mortar to a depth of at least half an inch (an inch is even better) and trowel in some properly mixed mortar, or latex patching concrete.

Q: We are having a hard time keeping our towel bars and toilet article holders fastened in dry wall. We screw plastic shield in too, but they do not hold. What do you suggest trying?

A: Special expansion fasteners for hanging brackets, shelves, hooks, etc., on dry walls, hollow core doors, etc., are widely available at variety and hardware stores. One new one is very easy to use: A hole is drilled where the fastener is needed, a little nylon cylinder pushed in and the threaded nail tapped in with a hammer. Sidewise expansion takes place with the tapping, giving almost permanent fastening.

Luncheon Plans Set by Members Of Hadassah

The annual potato pancake luncheon of the Appleton Chapter of Hadassah will take place at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Moses Montefiore social center. Proceeds from the luncheon will be used for Hadassah supplies. Serving as chairmen will be Mrs. Jack Fielkow and Mrs. Marvin Kagan.

The committee is composed of Mrs. Eli Fielkow, Mrs. Goldie Brooks, Mrs. Lester Chudacoff, Mrs. Jake Golper and Mrs. Frank Cohen.

Cleanse Makeup Brushes Frequently

If the "little" brushes you use for powder, eye make-up, and other cosmetics have built up an oily residue or "goo," soak them briefly in a small bowl of cleaning fluid. Follow up by washing them promptly in plenty of hot soap or detergent suds and rinses.

Corrective Make-Up

A lovely writes: I have the skin tone and give a filmy film most peculiar puffs under my eyes. They aren't white like most puffs, but quite dark. I tried to cover them with white make-up, made for dark circles. Well, this softened the color but accentuated the puffiness, even though I applied my tinted foundation over the white. Please help me to solve this predicament.

The Answer: The problem is not uncommon and it can be camouflaged. But first you must understand a basic principle of camouflage. A coating of white on anything, from the lids of the eyes to the walls of a room, gives the illusion of increased dimensions, simply because it reflects light. To douse the light, you would have to shade it with a fairly deep, dense color.

Thus, in the case of dark puffs, a white cosmetic is useless. For unless it were blanketed with a near-brown foundation, the puffs would appear larger than life. The use of a dark foundation would only make a nightshade of the region.

Two tinted foundations are the best solution. One should be just a bit lighter than the skin tone of your face. It may be a cream or cake, but it must supply better than adequate coverage. The second shade should match your

Widow on Pension Wants to Take $2,000 European Trip

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley:

Here's the story... please give me the ending. I am a widow, aged 66, in reasonably good health. I have a monthly pension of $107.40. This takes care of rent, food, hospitalization, clothes. Birthdays, holidays, and an occasional bit of sewing take care of extras. I have $10,000 in a savings account.

The $64 question is really a $2,000 question. My sister-in-law, also a widow, has suggested we take a trip to Europe next summer. She has been there several times before. Her mode of living has always been on a grander style than mine, but I wouldn't matter as far as being fellow travelers. We are quite compatible. It's taking that $2,000 from the savings account!

What do you think?

M. L., Chicago

Dear M.L.:

Start packing.

As long as you're proved you can live on your pension of $107.40 a month, plus birthday and holiday gifts, you really size, I'll be the first to cheer you out of a dollar! Two thousand dollars' worth of pleasure ought to last you a lifetime! You'll still have your pension, hospitalization — and an $8,000 cushion. Bon voyage!

Dear Miss Feeley:

My husband is 53 and I am 44 years old. We were blessed with a little girl last year. She was a complete surprise, weighed only three pounds is a lovable, beautiful baby, and we are very proud of her. I also have a married daughter who lives out of town, and wonderful 13-year-old boy.

This is my problem. Would we be foolish to buy a small house at our age? I feel so cooped up in an apartment with this baby. We do not have much in savings but feel we could do it in the money department. My husband's take-home pay is $560 a month.

We pay $75 for the apartment we now live in. My daughter thinks we should buy a place and give our new little daughter more freedom. I always wanted to take in children and give them a home, but I never could because my apartment is too small. This has always been a dream of mine as I love children and have a lot of love to give them.

I just wonder, could we do it now?

Mrs. T.E.A., Brooklyn

Dear Mrs. A.:

I hate to introduce a note of caution, when you have such a happy reason for wanting that home. But here I go with a few chilling facts. If you feel you can cut them down to your size, I'll be the first to cheer you on.

To begin with, the "small" house you speak of certainly can't be too small, with your present household and the large one you hope to have. The house should not cost more than $20,000 and preferably less. A $12,000 mortgage for 25 years at 5 1/2 per cent would cost about $74 a month. A 20-year mortgage about $82.55. Remember to add on taxes, insurance, and heat. These might well put another $75 onto the cost of shelter.

Most lenders look askance at a mortgage lasting beyond the breadwinner's retirement age unless there are extenuating circumstances — such as an independent income. But assuming you can leap this hurdle, you really should have from $6,000 to $8,000 in savings now, for a down payment — which I gather you don't have.

As for taking children into your home on a foster care basis, why not now — if you can swing the house. At your age wisdom and tolerance are no doubt part of the mental equipment you bring to the job of raising children. Added to love, they're bountiful qualifications. But I suggest that it wouldn't be wise to plan on any portion of foster care finances as helping in the purchase of a house. Such arrangement can vary from $78 to $93 a month, depending on age of the child and the particular agency you deal with.

Sometimes, however, an unusual set of circumstances can make a dream come true. So don't write off your plan for your house and your household too quickly. Just keep your eyes open for an unusual opportunity and be ready to grab it.

TAFFY'S TIPS

By Dolly Martin

MAIL CALL

Dear Taffy:

I have a new dog and would like to trail it. Do you have any tips that will help me?

Sincerely,

TED

Dear Ted:

2. SIT: Your dog stops what he's doing and sits firmly on both haunches. Training: Walk your dog at "heel." Stop and grasp the leash, and push down on the dog's back.

3. DOWN: Rover stops what he is doing and lies down. Training: Have the dog "sit," and you drop down on one knee. Grip the leash close to the collar. At the same time say, "down" and give the leash short, sharp jerks downward. For more information on Dog Training Tips, write to Pet Food Institute, 333 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Illinois. Dept. ODA. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed No. 10 envelope.

Keep happy.

To Your Good Health

Most People Have Some Form of Allergies

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Any information concerning allergies from dust and pollen would be greatly appreciated. (Mr. B.)

That's a big order. It is estimated that 75 per cent of us have at least minor allergies, and 25 per cent have strong ones. Dr. Molner and no two of them are necessarily alike. However, maybe I can give you some helpful clues.

An allergy is a hypersensitivity to something or other which ordinarily is harmless. The symptoms can be a running nose, chronic drainage in the throat, hives, itch, inflamed eyes, sneezes, digestive upsets and a host of other common complaints.

Pairing the hypersensitivity with the symptom isn't always easy. A careful history of the case is essential. In one instance symptoms occurred only on weekends; a lot of defective work disclosed that certain cheeses used for snacks when the family visited their cottage was the cause.

Pollen allergy is usually easy to spot because of its seasonal nature, but remember that two or three different types may overlap. A dozen or so pollens, at least, are frequently involved in "hay fever." It isn't just a single ragweed.

Dust sensitivities may be harder to identify, and involve many things other than "dirt." Molds, yeast, pollen, animal danders, feathers, fabrics — quite a list.

We may sneeze from the irritation if a cloud of dust blows in our faces. The allergic person doesn't need a cloud of it. Watch the particles in the air where a sunbeam falls. Just a few particles of the right (or wrong!) material can make an allergic person sneeze.

What can be done? Medical history and skin tests will usually identify at least some of the offending types of dust, and if the symptoms warrant, desensitization by injections may be utilized.

In less severe cases, dust can be reduced by having a minimum of knickknacks around, and use of oiled cloth or mop for cleaning.

Allergies tend to add together. If you are sensitive to several things, you may have symptoms if all affect you at once, but you may escape if you encounter them singly.

Or encounter them in small enough concentrations. If you can avoid some of the things that bother you, you may find that the others will give you less trouble because your total exposure is reduced.

DSS Treatment

Dear Dr. Molner: Is the diet of sodium sulfacetate that you mentioned in your column available without a prescription? Please send me your booklet on how to stop constipation. I enclose 20 cents in a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Mrs. A.C.)

Yes, the D-S-S is available in a stamped, self-addressed envelope. It is sold under a dozen or so trade names, but any up-to-date druggist can help you select one.

Nose Bleeds

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 18 and quite frequently get a bloody nose. I will just be sitting there and it will start to bleed. Sometimes I wake up in the morning and find blood on the pillow. I have had my nose broken three times but don't think this is the cause. (D. B.)

At your age I doubt that high blood pressure is involved. That leaves us with two or three principal possibilities. Some people cause nose bleeds by picking their noses—even unconsciously while they are asleep. If we can pass that by, it leaves:

A—Enlarged superficial blood vessels that rupture at the slightest irritation or scratch.

B—A small ulcerated spot which bleeds periodically. This is the most likely answer in a case like yours, and it is readily corrected by simple cauterization, which your doctor can do in his office.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes—The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25c in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Ask Release of Man Convicted In Beating Case

Defense Attorney Institutes New Circuit Court Action

OSHKOSH — A motion for a new trial and a motion for discharge of Warren Rumlou, 919 W. Fourth Ave., Oshkosh, found guilty by a jury of the abuse and ill-treatment of a Winnebago State Hospital patient were taken under advisement today by Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane.

Cane had set today for sentencing of Rumlou, found guilty of the charge after a trial Dec. 5. He was charged with the abuse of Ervin Kropidowski, Stevens Point, a state hospital patient who died several hours after the alleged incident in which Rumlou and four other attendants had to subdue Kropidowski.

The other four attendants were acquitted by the jury. They are Jack Diesing, 825 Randall Place, Robert L. Newton, 715 Oak St., Theodore Kempinger, 709 W. Lincoln Ave. and Byron H. King, 67 Eveline St., all of Oshkosh.

Three Points
Defense Atty. Henry P. Hughes based his motion for a new trial on three points. He contended the court erred in its instruction to the jury regarding the matter of intent, the court had erred in admitting into the trial questions by the district attorney as to whether Rumlou had beaten his wife and one of the jurors had made a statement earlier about "something going on at the state hospital that ought to be corrected."

He asked for the discharge of Rumlou from the charge notwithstanding the decision of the jury on the contention the three inmates who witnessed the alleged incident had differing stories as to the incident and that these witnesses, being inmates, were not normal.

Alleged Beating
Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber said he apologized to the jury in the questioning of any alleged wife beating by Rumlou, so that this should not have been prejudicial against Rumlou. He also said the juror involved had made a complete statement as to the matter.

He contended the breaking of the venetian blind weight slat could not have accounted for the four injuries to the deceased.

Cane, after hearing these arguments, said he would take the motions under advisement and would issue his decision during the week of Jan. 20.

Two Southerners, Jerry Wiesman, Houston, Tex., and William Christian, Smyrna, Ga., tested Wisconsin weather the hard way Saturday. They walked across Lake Winnebago from Neenah to Faro Springs on the east shore despite near zero temperatures and 20 m.p.h. winds. ## Chain Puffers Break the Chain?

Fox Cities Smokers Puff and Pout Over Cigarette Research 'Scare'

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Experience a "guilt complex" when lighting up your first cigarette today?

Sure you did. . . especially when taking that air-piercing long drag.

And, you probably weren't alone, either.

Quite a few smokers, who never thought of it before, hesitated to watch the curls of smoke in their (pardon the expression) heavenly flight.

This has all come to pass as result of the sobering weekend report on the ill effects of cigarette-smoking.

On this 13th day of January, it would be safe to say many chain-smokers broke the chain.

Several Types

From casual observations—no research, if you please—it would appear there were several types of smokers in the typical office today.

The first was the brave warrior who walked in and sat down at his desk with that, "I'll show 'em" look. His first order of business was to make a production out of lighting a cigarette—no filter tip, either! No coward, no hero.

There was the meek one who decided he would see what the rest of the folks were going to do. He kept peering out of the sides of both eyes until spotting someone else's cigarette clouds. Then, in his own sneaky way, he fumbled and jumbled as he lit up.

Our third smoker was the guy or gal who, after hearing the report of the medical panel and U. S. surgeon general, made an on-the-spot resolution, "That's it. . . I'm giving it up." By about mid-morning the temptation was so great, the well-intended had a smoke with mixed emotions. However, temperance prevailed and the cigarette butt was longer than usual.

Pipe Smog

Then there was Mr. Clever himself. He's the chap who decided a week or so ago that he would retire the cigs and take up pipe smoking. He puffed away with glee and was practically engulfed in smoke, much to the consternation of those around him.

For the cigar smoker, the report was a reprieve and he smoked to his heart's content with the, "I told you so," look on his countenance.

The scrutinizing of smoking by the panel of medical researchers may have far-reaching ramifications, to wit:

The little woman, bless her

This committee, with the final approval of the attorney general, selects the winners. The acts of bravery and service must have been performed in 1963 by a boy or girl 18 years of age or younger. Acts performed in the line of military service do not qualify. The program of national recognition was established by Congress in 1950.

President of Sewerage Unit Resigns Post

W. H. Clifford Quits Twin City Job After 28 Years

NEENAH — William H. Clif- ford, 427 Ninth St., Neenah, to- day concluded 28 years of pub- lic service to the Twin Cities with his resignation as president of the Neenah-Menasha Sewer- age Commission. Edward Den- dooven, director of the engi- neering division of Marathon, a division of American Can Co., is the new commission presi- dent.

Clifford, who guided the origi- nal building program and the subsequent additions of the Neenah-Menasha sewage disposal plant, served as the commission president for 28 years.

The retired commission presi- dent, a former vice president and financial officer of Kimber- ly-Clark Corp., has been the commission's spokesman in its many dealings with the state legislature, the state supreme court, the corps of engineers.

Harry Kargus, park superinten- dent, Evan Baldwin, sheet su- pervisor; Police Chief Lester Clark, Fire Chief C. J. Rippl and Utility Superintendent Thomas McGuire.

the State Board of Health and the Wisconsin Industrial Com- mission.

$1.7 Million Project
"He has guided the present ex- pansion program — a $1.7 mil- lion secondary treatment project — through its legislative and preliminary engineering phases," DenDooen commented. "and has prepared us well to take over the load he has carried but his organizing ability and finan- cial judgement will be missed."

The Neenah-Menasha Sewer- age Commission was formed in the latter part of 1935 following enabling legislation by the state. The commission directed the construction of the original plant and interceptor sewers during 1936-37 and the operational start- up in September of 1937. This original plant was of the pri- mary treatment type and the sewage solids were burned with fuel oil.

When incinerators were added to the plant in 1957-59 so that it was possible to burn all garbage refuse and industrial wastes, the sewage solids also were burned, eliminating the use of oil. This effected a $15,000 per year savings to the taxpayers of Neenah and Menasha, com- missioners pointed out.

Stassen Interested In State's Primary

Many GOP Leaders Will Visit Wisconsin to Back 'Favorite Son' Candidate

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Harold Stassen announced Sunday that a Stassen, who has expressed interest in entering Wisconsin's presidential primary, has asked a meeting with a state Republican leader and an aide for New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller says he will visit the state within a month.

Hard on the heels of these developments, State GOP chairman Talbot Peterson of Appleton said Saturday night he had received a telegram asking a meeting with Stassen, who is now in Russia as president of the American Baptist Convention. Stassen had said last July he was interested in entering Wisconsin's April 7 primary.

Supreme Court Strikes Down Louisiana Law

Race Designation On Election Ballots Was Requirement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today a Louisiana law requiring designation on election ballots of the race of candidates for all elective offices in the state.

The decision was given on an appeal by two Negroes who were unsuccessful candidates for nomination as school board members of East Baton Rouge Parish in a Democratic primary election of July 28, 1962.

Justice Clark delivered the unanimous decision.

Racial Label

Clark's opinion declared that "by placing a racial label on a candidate at the most crucial stage in the electoral process—the instant before the vote is cast—the state furnishes a vehicle by which racial prejudice may be so aroused as to operate against one group because of race and for another."

The Negroes, Dupuy H. Anderson and Acie J. Belton, contended the Louisiana requirement unconstitutionally "makes racial discrimination possible and encourages the practices."

Counsel for Louisiana replied that the state's purpose was an informed electorate, "and an informed electorate will discriminate."

State Contention

"If this were not so, an election should not be held," the state contended, "for the holding of an election is an opportunity for the elector to discriminate, to which he is most certainly entitled."

The Justice Department, in a "friend of the court" brief, asked that the Louisiana requirement be struck down. The brief said the inevitable effect of the requirement was to encourage voters to cast their ballots along racial lines.

The Negroes appealed to the high tribunal from a decision by a special three-judge federal court in Baton Rouge.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Eugene Wyman says that as of now, U.S. Sen. Clair Engle "is not in any condition to campaign."

Wyman returned to Los Angeles Sunday with Tom Carver Jr., president of the California Democratic Council, after meeting with Engle.

Recover Bodies Of Six Killed In Plane Crash

Chicago Area Family On Skiing Trip To Michigan Peninsula

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (AP) — A recovery party plowed through snow in a Northern Michigan forest today and retrieved the bodies of six members of a Chicago area family killed when their plane crashed on a skiing trip.

Ground crews, using a bulldozer, pushed to the wreckage site more than six miles in the forest some 30 miles from the tip of Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

A civilian observer in a state police plane had spotted the wreckage in a dense stand of trees shortly before dusk Sunday.

Victims Identified

Authorities identified the victims as H. J. Cummings, 36, River Forest, Ill., insurance broker, his wife, Patricia, 32, and four of their six children: Kathy, 11, Michael, 10, Susan, 9, and Mary, 6.

Cummings, who piloted the Cessna 205, was last seen on Friday evening when he radioed he couldn't find a landing strip. The family was bound for a weekend of skiing at Boyne Mountain Lodge, a winter resort.

The Cummings' apparently died as a result of the crash, which ripped the plane into five sections, and not from exposure to temperatures ranging down to 12 below zero, a coroner's findings indicated.

Police theorized that Cummings, intent on finding a landing strip, flew too low without being aware of the plane's altitude.

Glided Through Trees

The aircraft snapped off a number of tree tops in gliding in to crash, officers said. The power had been on, they said. The accident tore off both wings and the tail assembly from the fuselage. The fuselage struck a tree and flopped over, throwing the engine more than 25 feet.

The crash site is more than six miles from the nearest main highway, Interstate 75, and is about 30 miles south of Cheboygan. A rough road known as "Fisher's Trail" was broken open by the ground crew to get near the crash scene.

Good Chance

Peterson said Sunday there was a "good chance" Byrnes would speak at the $100-a-plate fund raising dinner in Milwaukee Jan. 20. Sen. John G. Tower of Texas was announced previously as the main speaker.

Other Republican figures who will appear in the state before the primary, Peterson said, include Rep. William Miller of New York, the GOP national chairman; Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, who is regarded as a presidential possibility; Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, and Dr. Walter Judd, a former representative from Minnesota.

Tax Cut, Civil Rights Approval Is Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the including congressmen, representatives of the executive branch and private citizens met Sunday over whether the approval of tax reduction and civil rights legislation has been forecast by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

But the Illinois Republican said he had grave doubts that the civil rights bill now pending in the House Rules Committee can win approval in its present form.

Appearing Sunday on a taped radio-television program with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., Dirksen recalled he had told the late President John F. Kennedy he could not go along with the controversial section to desegregate such public accommodations as privately owned hotels, motels and restaurants.

View Shared

He said there were others who shared his view that the provision should call for voluntary desegregation and added he thought it would be difficult to get support of two-thirds of those voting to stop the certain Southern filibuster against the bill.

Dirksen said he believes the House-passed tax cut bill will be approved in time to be made retroactive to Jan. 1. The measure is now under consideration by the Senate Finance Committee. But Dirksen said he doubted final Senate passage would come before mid-February.

Mansfield-aid: Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says he favors retaining the Agency for International Development, but thinks foreign military aid should be put under the Defense Department.

The Montana Democrat said in an interview Saturday he formerly favored putting all foreign economic assistance under the State Department, "but times have changed and so have my views on the subject." He didn't elaborate.

A special commission headed by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball is reviewing the entire structure of the foreign aid program. It is scheduled to make its report Wednesday.

Ball is said to favor dividing the program between the State Department, to handle military aid, and an independent aid program for Latin America.

Democratic Party Has Solved One Program, Aggravated Another

Increase of Vote Power Has Made Convention Unwieldy

BY LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic party has taken a big step toward solving one of its convention problems, that of proportionate representation. But another problem has, if anything, been aggravated.

The party began in 1952 to ignore the fact that some states were growing and others were losing population. The result: Some smaller states had a disproportionately loud voice in the convention.

There were two ways to correct this situation: Take votes away from some states or give votes to others. The first seemed too painful. So Saturday the Democratic National Committee approved a vote allocation formula for the 1964 convention which recognizes both population and zeal for the party—and greatly increases the number of votes to be cast.

But the other problem, size of the convention, is thornier than ever.

August Convention

To cast the 2,316 votes authorized for the August convention, the committee approved 3,056 delegates and 2,208 alternates. This means that about 5,264 of them will be floating around Atlantic City's mammoth Convention Hall, compared with 4,509 four years ago in Los Angeles.

As usual at Democratic conventions, most will be casting only one-half of a vote.

By contrast, the Republican convention in San Francisco will have only 1,308 delegates, cast a like number of votes.

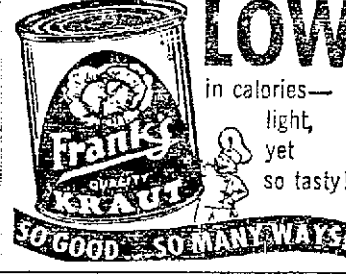

Another 1,308 alternates are authorized, meaning that physically the GOP convention will be about half as large as the Democratic conclave.

Democratic leaders say they don't mind. The additional alternates and delegates give only the job of translating my words." General laughter followed.

Tobacco Stocks On Downtrend

Stocks of Cigar Companies Up in Mixed Market Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Cigarette company stocks declined and cigar issues advanced in a mixed stock market today. Trading was fairly active.

Gains and losses of key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or so.

The tobacco stocks reacted to the U.S. Public Health Service report linking smoking and disease. Cigarette issues were down sharply at the start but cut their losses considerably.

The cigar stocks made sizable gains at the opening and kept them. The government report ascribed only mild effects on health to cigar and pipe-smoking.

Aerospace issues were mostly higher but gains were small. A variety of other issues met demand, some moving up sharply to new yearly highs.

Some investment caution was linked to the Panama crisis.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .3 at 289.1 with industrials off .6, rails off .2 and utilities off .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .68 at 773.65.

Spending Panel May Urge Changes

Panel Reports Indicate Outlay Exceeding State Capacity to Pay

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—A commission of citizens assigned to scrutinize causes and consequences of inflation in Wisconsin public spending has shown a deliberately cautious attitude in its first report to the Legislature.

A series of subcommittee reports submitted as a progress account for the "Committee of 25" headed by Fred Trowbridge, Green Bay, contains some broad hints the group ultimately will urge broad-scale modifications of purposes and methods of state and local government spending.

The progress report has been filed with the Legislative Council. A complete report, with conclusions and recommendations, will be submitted to the 1965 legislature which convenes next January and which according to all signs again will confront a financial dilemma more severe than those which produced crises in the capital in the last two legislative sessions.

Examine Services

Subcommittees on education and public health and welfare services said they have worked during the last six months on examinations of the scope of those services and reasons for exploding costs, and have not yet arrived at explicit recommendations.

—The state building program tends to encourage automatic increases in funds available for expenditure "without adequate legislative scrutiny."

—State construction "often includes unnecessary luxuries at a time when their extra cost could be used to provide other badly needed facilities."

—Public debt and debt of public corporations is rising out of "all proportion to population, property values and personal income."

Such preliminary observations may show the committee ultimately will provide some comfort for fiscal conservatives who sponsored the legislation for the expenditure study, even if it does not produce a method for achieving the spending plateau that some worried legislators talked about last year.

The study was a Republican response to the long and difficult stalemate with the Democratic state administration last year on the size of the state budget, on one hand, and methods to be used to provide new revenues to cover expenditure expansion, on the other.

That its deliberations and conclusions will be closely involved in public discussions during the new state political campaign was shown here when Warren Knowles, Republican candidate for governor and a champion of conservative fiscal policies, publicly referred to the commission as the "white hope commission."

City Credit Exchange Members Hear City Relief Officer Ehrlicke

Appleton Credit Exchange members heard Merton Ehrlicke, city welfare officer, last week at the Conway Hotel speak on major causes for welfare assistance.

Desertion, divorce, financial problems, unemployment and physical and mental illness were named by Ehrlicke as major causes of relief cases. Other factors are alcoholism, poor work records, limited education and early marriages.

Concern for protection of merchants against poor credit risks which might originate with relief case persons was related by Ehrlicke to the department's concern for community interests and its taxpayers.

Residential remodeling permits numbered 16 and cost was estimated at $17,150 during 1963, while 34 remodeling permits were issued during 1962, work cost estimated at $27,600. Total residential construction during 1963 was set at $477,950.

Commercial Building

Eight permits were issued for commercial construction and remodeling in 1963 at a cost of $67,300 compared to five permits costing $125,400 in 1963.

Largest single commercial construction project during the year was Larry's Piggly Wiggly supermarket, at a construction cost of $65,000. An additional $800 permit was issued for a sign for the new store.

A building in the heart of the community housing a 5 cents to $1 store and an insurance office, was constructed at a cost of $35,000 by Robert Hartjes. An addition to the telephone exchange building cost $21,000 and a new store front at Hane-graaf's grocery cost $3,500.

Youths Who Give Hoot Present Hoot(enanny)

BY MARSHALL GRANROS

Because they "give a hoot" about helping the unfortunate, they gave a "hot" Saturday night.

"They" refers to the Teens Against Polio Committee and the Appleton High School Student Council, sponsors of a hootenanny at the AHS Gym.

It was for a good cause and was a reasonably successful show that added some much needed monies to the coffers of the March of Dimes.

The show brought together a varied group of performers from high schools and from Lawrence College. Most young people who are performing music of this type seem to pattern themselves after the more popular groups such as the Kingston Trio and the Brothers Four.

As the program progressed, this was quite evident, for the evening's roster of folk songs leaned quite heavily upon these stylings. This is not a criticism — the audience seemed to enjoy this music the most.

Of the four vocal groups, the Town Kryers, the Four Winds, the Five Milers and the Islanders, only the latter seemed to be applying their own talents to changing the stylings by adding their own unique flavoring.

Having mastered the style they have chosen, they have set out on the exciting course of discovering what they can do to improve that style.

Bruce Biselx and Ginny Allen, both solo performers, were hampered by a faulty sound system.

Both are better and deserve better than they were accorded.

Biselx's mastery of the guitar and his unusual vocal stylings were lost to all but those in the front rows. And the intimacy demanded by two beautiful Scottish songs done so lovingly by Miss Allen was lacking because the audience had to strain to hear her.

Sharecroppers Tops

Jerry Kurtyka and Mary LeFevre fared better with the audience, possibly because they were doing more familiar material. Their rendition of "Blowin' in the Wind" was especially well-received.

Standouts of the evening, in this reviewer's opinion, were the Sharecroppers from Lawrence, Thoroughly versed in the nuances of the Appalachian-type music they do, they were very much at home on the stage and won the appreciative attention of the crowd.

Marshall Granros was master of ceremonies for this informal show, but the less said about him, the better. While not adding much to the evening's entertainment, he caused no real harm.

15 Track Records Fall in Skating Races at Waupaca

Cold Wind, Rough Ice Fail to Slow State's Top Contestants

BY DICK McDANIEL

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA—A cold wind and rough ice failed to deter Wisconsin's top ice skating speedsters Sunday afternoon when 15 local track records were bettered in the state outdoor championship races on Shadow Lake.

Skaters were competing for points needed to make them eligible for the annual national championships later this year in St. Paul, Minn.

West Allis skating club retained its state championship by collecting 104 points. Superior and Madison tied for second with 51 points and Waupaca was fourth with 34 points. Other clubs and their total points were: Whitefish Bay, 24; Oconomowoc, 22; Waukesha, 17, and Fond du Lac, 9.

Mrs. William (Mary Novak) Sand, Eau Claire, who skates with the Waupaca Club, was top point winner with 20 points in the senior women's division. She was the only entry in the division and, racing alone, she broke the track record in the 440 and added new records in the 880 and three-fourth mile.

Other Winners

Other grand slam winners were Pete Cefalu, West Allis, junior boys; Andrea Melin, Superior, junior girls; and Beth Jassoy, White Fish Bay. They won first place in all three of their events. Only the senior division has four events.

In addition to the grand slam winners, the skaters who won "best of class" trophies were: Vern Kappes, West Allis, senior men; Greg St. Ange, Superior, intermediate boys; Dave Meier, West Allis, juvenile boys; Peter Mueller, Madison, midjet boys; Paul Rass, West Allis, p.o.n.y. boys; Linda Schubert, West Allis, intermediate girls; Flora Howie, Oconomowoc, juvenile girls, and Mary Mittelstadt, Madison, p.o.n.y. girls.

Mueller, who claimed the best of class in the midjet boys, was competing earlier this year in the younger age group, p.o.n.y. boys. However, last week he competed in the midjet division in Milwaukee and is no longer eligible for the p.o.n.y. division, but went on to win honors in the older midjet class.

Kappes scored 18 out of a possible 20 points in the highly-competitive senior men's division. He opened with a second in the 220 and followed with firsts in the 440, 880 and one-mile events. He bettered the old record in the 220.

Andrea Melin, Superior, broke all three records in the junior girls' division. Cefalu, and Beth Jassoy also broke two each of the former track records.

Mark Romeis, a midjet boy, was the only Waupaca club skater to win a first place in competition. He won the 220. He placed second in the 440 to add eight points to the Waupaca count.

Arlis Jenkins, another Waupaca skater scored five points on a second in the 880 and a third in the 440. Karen Jenkins placed fourth in the three-fourth mile and Charles Kagen, Appleton, a member of the Waupaca club, placed fourth in the p.o.n.y. event.

body should distribute such material.

Fred C. Heinemann, Appleton, president of the County Humane Society, said no one was authorized to distribute any kind of pro or con vivisection material at the dog pound, citing that it was a matter of long-standing policy.

"We have no connection with these various organizations," Heinemann said. However, Heinemann said he would check to make sure no material was being distributed. If it is, it will be stopped, he indicated.

He did explain several organizations send literature to the society on various subjects, and they may be available on a table for anyone who wants to take copies of their own volition.

"We do our best to operate the dog pound and take no stand whatsoever on these subjects," Heinemann emphasized.

Captioned, "Here's The Unvarnished Truth About Vivisection!" the pamphlet contains a two-page layout of pictures, including those of alleged scenes at Ohio State University Veterinary School and Children's Hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Monkey Picture

A spokesman for Children's Hospital wrote in part: "I presume you refer to our famous 'monkey cage picture' wherein some deluded person took an unauthorized picture of our animal quarters some years ago. Opponents to sane, constructive medical research have used and circulated this widely."

"Fortunately, through the National Society for Medical Research, steps have been taken to stop such misrepresentation."

It was explained further by Robert D. Southwick, hospital administrator, that the monkeys were humanely used by Dr. Albert Sabin and contributed directly to the development of his live virus poliomyelitis vaccine.

Humane Use

He said over 10,000 children were admitted to the hospital this year and received highly scientific care. "Much of this could not have been possible without the humane and indispensable use of laboratory animals," Southwick said.

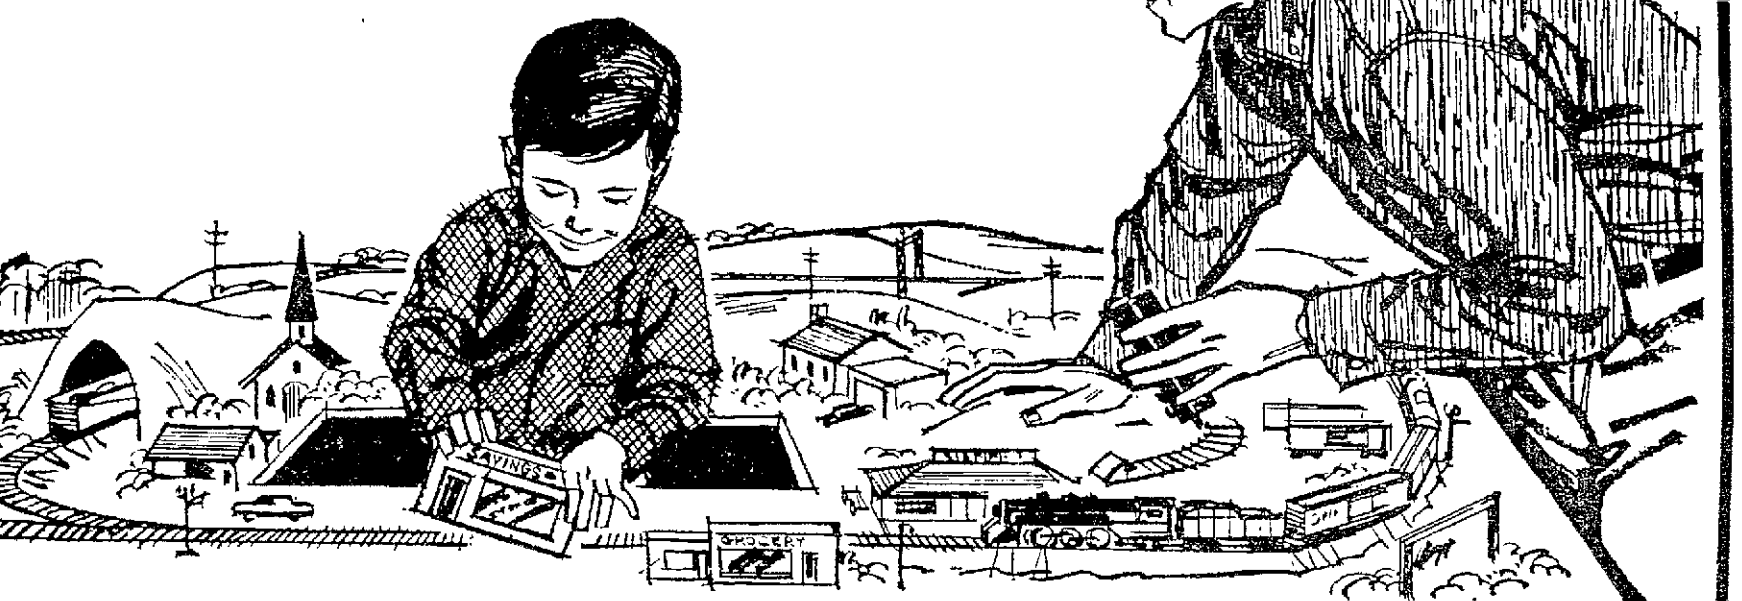

Also answering the girl's inquiry was Dr. Richard Meiling, dean of the college of medicine at Ohio State University.

"About a year ago, one of the several anti-vivisectionist societies published some pictures of dogs being caged in some obviously sub-standard conditions and alleged that these pictures were taken in our laboratory," Dr. Meiling said.

"These pictures were brought to our attention and upon comparing the pictures with the cages we have in our laboratory, it was immediately obvious that no such caging equipment existed anywhere within the jurisdiction of the college of medicine, and that the allegations of the persons publishing these pictures were false," he added.

He invited inspection of the research facilities and said animals were being cared for in the "most humane and modern ways."

Dutchmen Save 72-67 Victory Over Springs

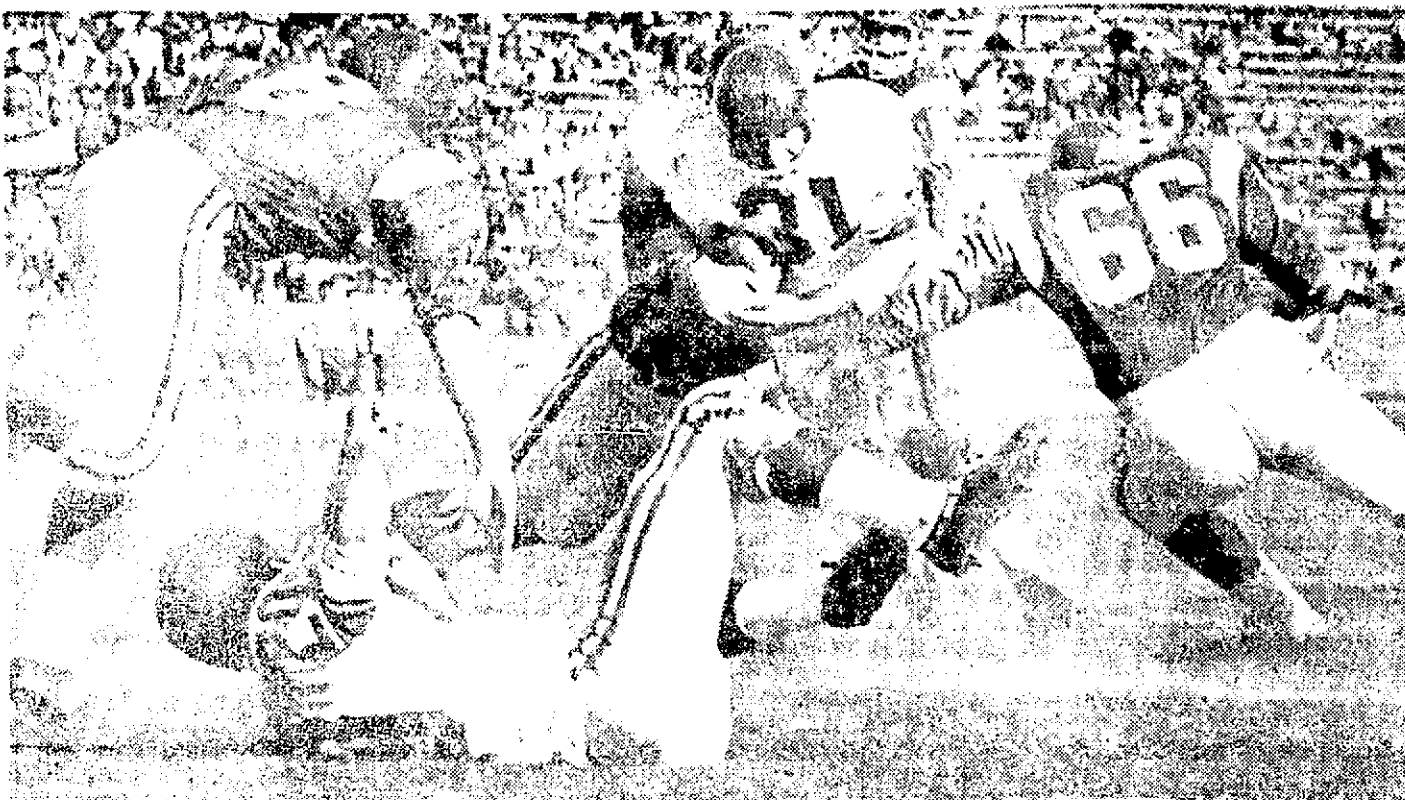

Bill Verhagen Helps St. John Fight Off Late Ledger Effort

BY TOM VANDER PAS

LITTLE CHUTE — St. John's old nemesis, fourth period let-down, again took its toll but the Dutchmen saved just enough gas to cop a 72-67 decision over Fond du Lac St. Mary's in a Fox Valley Catholic Conference game here Sunday afternoon.

In gaining their third FVCC victory in seven tries, St. John went ahead to stay about mid-way through the second stanza when Bruce Hammen hit two field goals to give the Dutchmen a 27-23 advantage. Just prior to that, the Ledgers had taken a momentary 23-22 edge.

Taylor, Whittenton Score as West Cops

John Unitas Voted Tilt's Top Player

BY CHARLES MAHER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If the court please, counsel for the Western Conference of the National Football League wishes to offer a third exhibit in support of its claim to superiority over the Eastern Conference. It asks that this be marked Exhibit C and placed in evidence.

The jury will recall that Exhibit A was introduced Dec. 29. That was when the champion Chicago Bears of the Western Conference won the NFL title by defeating New York's Eastern Conference champions 14-10 at Chicago.

Exhibit B was the Playoff Bowl game at Miami Jan. 5. In that one the West's No. 2 team, Green Bay, scored a 40-23 victory over Cleveland, the Eastern Conference runner-up.

Exhibit C is the NFL's 14th annual Pro Bowl game, played Sunday before a crowd of 67,242 and won by the Western Conference All-Stars 31-17.

Without Interruption The Western Conference submits that this sort of thing has been going on, almost without interruption, since 1957. It suggests that since that time the Eastern Conference has probably suffered more reverses than it has pulled in post-season games.

Of the last seven NFL title games, Western Conference teams have won six. In the Pro Bowl, the West has won six of the last eight.

Against Eastern Conference opponents during the last regular season, the West had a less substantial edge, winning seven games, losing six and tying one. Baltimore quarterback John Unitas threw two touchdowns and passes and Green Bay fullback Jim Taylor gained 98 yards rushing Sunday as the West scored its ninth Pro Bowl victory in 14 tries.

Unitas, for the third time in this series, was named Player of the Game. And Baltimore's retiring defensive end, Gino Marchetti, was named Lineman of the Game.

Cleveland fullback Jim Brown scored both of the East's touchdowns and led all rushers with 101 yards in 15 carries. Taylor got his 98 yards in 14 carries, averaging seven yards to Brown's 6.73.

Whittenton Scores The West, ahead 14-3 at the half, ran its lead to 25 points early in the third period. First, Jesse Whittenton of Green Bay intercepted a pass by Washington's Norm Snead and returned the ball 26 yards for a touchdown.

Bobby Mitchell of Washington fumbled returning the next kick-off and Herb Adderley of Green Bay recovered on the East 21.

Unitas passed 14 yards to Mike Ditka of Chicago and, on third down, threw a five-yarder to Gail Coghill of Detroit for a touchdown.

That made it 28-3 and the East was decimated.

Brown made his two touchdown runs, one for eight yards and one for six.

Texas' Duke Carlisle, Giant Omaha Tackle Sign Packer Contracts

Jack Petersen Stands 6-5, Weighs In at 280 Pounds

GREEN BAY — Duke Carlisle, the University of Texas quarterback who overshadowed the heralded Roger Staubach in the Cotton Bowl, has signed a Packer contract for 1964, it was announced today by Coach Vince Lombardi.

Carlisle was the Packers' fifth draft choice. Lombardi also announced the signing of Jack Petersen of Omaha, the 11th pick.

Also a talented defensive back, Carlisle was at first ticketed for defense with the Packers but he will be considered for quarterback, too. Lombardi said. Carlisle QB'd the Texans to an unbeaten season, the National Collegiate Championship and a smashing win over Navy.

Carlisle, a highly intelligent athlete, made the all-scholastic All-America and scored highest on his entrance exam at the Texas University.

Petersen is a giant tackle who can play both offense and defense. He stands 6-5 and weighs 280 pounds.

The Packers have now announced the signing of their first third, fourth, fifth, eighth, 11th, 13th, and 19th choices — plus two junior eligibles from year ago and several free agents.

Other signers include the No. 1 choice — tackle Lloyd Voss of Nebraska.

Bobcats Split Weekend Set With Mustangs

Rochester Comes Back to Win Sunday Tilt, 5-2

BY LEE REMMEL

Post-Crescent News Service GREEN BAY — Their backs scraping the proverbial wall, year ago and several free agents, their way back into the United States Hockey League race at the Bobcats' expense here Sunday afternoon, mounting a 4-goal burst in the third period to scuttle the league leaders, 5-2.

The long-awaited victory, which prompted Coach Art Strobel to observe "We know it's not entirely hopeless now," cracked a pair of streaks — a 5-game drought for the Mustangs and a 5-game winning streak for the home forces — and lifted Rochester within four games of first place with 16 to play.

It also was a memorable triumph for the Bobcats' guests for another reason, it being the Broncos' first victory over their now traditional enemies in four starts, witnessed by 1,815 customers, it likewise squared the series, which had seen the Bays skate to a 9-6 triumph Saturday night with the aid of a hat trick by USHL scoring leader Darryl Winnechuk.

Lead Shaved There was still another consequence, which was of more immediate concern to the Bobcats. The defeat shaved their lead to a mere half-game over Waterloo's runnerup Black Hawks, who dispatched St. Paul 9-5 to complete a sweep of their weekend series.

Any lingering optimism among the Bobcat faithful then was extinguished when Dave Frank whipped a 30-footer into the upper right corner of the Bobcat net at 15:03.

Frank slumped to the ice immediately after getting off the shot, which aggravated an old bad injury, but he shortly was able to rise and later returned to action.

The Bobcats' last gasp had come somewhat earlier, at 4:46, when Mayasich soloed. Sweeping through the Rochester defense from the left point, Mayasich first ricocheted a bullet off the right pipe, then wheeled in, pounced on the rebound and fired into the left corner of the Mustang cage.

Shutte had spiced his farewell appearance by forging a 1-1 tie in the second period when he flicked the puck past Rochester's Jerry Nichols, from the right of the net, following a pass from Gene Rebellato.

Announcer Bob Kelley Suffers Heart Attack During Pro Bowl Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sports-caster Bob Kelley has been hospitalized after suffering a heart attack while announcing the Pro Bowl football game.

Dr. Robert Woods, with the 47-year-old Kelley when he was stricken, said the attack appeared to be mild. However, officials at Daniel Freeman Hospital in Inglewood described Kelley's condition Sunday night as critical.

Badgers Meet Iowa Tonight

Seek to Gain First Win of Big 10 Season

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin basketball Coach John Erickson says his Badgers are "trying to do the hardest thing in the world" — break a losing streak.

The Badgers suffered their third loss in as many Big Ten starts when defeated 76-63 by Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., Saturday night. They will test their ability to recover tonight by entertaining Iowa, 1-1 in the conference.

"I can only hope we can beat Iowa before we break off for a couple of weeks for exams and come back strong," said Erickson. "We really need this one to restore our confidence."

In explaining what happens to a team in a losing streak, Erickson said, "You press more and more and hurt yourself as much as the other team does."

Really Frustrated By way of recounting what happened in the Northwestern game, the coach said, "We were really frustrated at the basket. We got the good shot position but all of a sudden a big hand would block the ball. We can't be shooting from 30 feet out, yet when we shoot from 15 feet or less our smaller players keep getting shots blocked. Northwestern wasn't shooting much better, but they could get the inside tips. We couldn't."

Erickson said, "I was proud of the way we came back at Northwestern after being so far down (31-15), but we couldn't get over the hump when we got close. We got within a point (40-39), and they just fell off again. We had a chance to go ahead on a fast break, missed it up, and Northwestern jumped ahead."

After the Iowa game the Badgers will be idle for two weeks for their first semester examinations.

WAUSAU — Accuracy from the free throw line enabled Xavier High School to keep its winning streak alive although the Hawks were given a big scare before defeating Newman of Wausau, 42-38, here Sunday afternoon.

The win was the 38th consecutive triumph for Xavier and the 11th of the current campaign.

It was Xavier's smallest victory margin of the season. The previous low was 15 points.

Xavier bagged 16 of 22 from the charity stripe and this proved to be the margin of victory. Newman had a 14-13 advantage in the field goal department.

Newman made only 10 of 22 free throws.

The Hawks jumped off to a lead in the first period and although the margin fluctuated between four and eight points, Newman was never in front.

Takes 25-18 Lead Xavier had a 25-18 lead at halftime as both teams had difficulties hitting from the floor. The Hawks added two points to that margin by scoring 11 in the third segment while Newman was held to nine.

The Hawks had a 40-29 margin with three minutes left in the game when Newman staged a comeback which almost pulled the game out of the fire. The Wausau club hit seven straight points to reduce the lead to 40-26 with 1:12 remaining. Paul Rechner dropped in a pair of free throws to boost the Hawk lead to 42-36 and Mike Hughes swished a long shot for Newman as the horn sounded to make it 42-38.

Xavier had one of its poorest shooting percentages of the season.

son hitting 31 per cent while Newman hit a cold 29 per cent. Newman now has a 5-5 record for the campaign.

Bob DeBruin was high scorer for Xavier with 11 points before fouling out late in the third quarter. Bill Timmers added nine for the Hawks.

Santa Anita to Reopen Tuesday

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Santa Anita Park, closed for five racing days by a strike that management says cost the track $5 million, will reopen Tuesday in the wake of a weekend settlement, track officials say.

Knights Tally 10 Points in Extra Period

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Oshkosh Lourdes picked up 10 points in an overtime to edge St. Mary, 74-70, in their Fox Valley Catholic conference encounter Sunday afternoon.

The Knights' Ron Zuehlke tied the score at 64-all with a basket with 13 seconds left in the fourth period but lost a chance to sink the potential winning marker or markers when he missed the first shot of a bonus play with three seconds left. A jump ball was called after the miss and neither team was able to get off an attempt.

Two baskets by Ron Graber of the Knights and fielders by Gary Wisneski and Kim Vanderhyden of St. Mary left the score tied 68-68 with 1:45 left in the 3-minute extra period.

Lourdes then pulled away with five straight points on Chuck Graber's rebound goal and a 3-point play by Mike Murphy. Mike Keltienhoven put in two free throws for St. Mary with 14 seconds left and Murphy earned a final charity toss for the victors.

38-30 at Halftime The Zephyrs had owned a 38-30 halftime lead and had a 30-point edge with three minutes left in the third period. The visitors cut the spread to three points but St. Mary was on top 46-41 at its conclusion.

St. Mary made the first four points of the last quarter but Lourdes launched another counter attack which resulted in 11 straight points and a 52-50 lead.

Later, the score was tied at 52, 54, 56 and 58 and with 44 seconds left St. Mary had a 64-60 lead. Steve Schumert made two of his 10 free throws for Lourdes. St. Mary lost the ball on a traveling violation with 22 seconds left and then Zuehlke knotted the issue nine seconds later.

Lose 3 On Fouls The Menashans went into the overtime without "Skip" Beisenstein, Ken Jahnke and Bob Vissers, all of whom had fouled.

Boston's famine and Johnny Bucyk's have both been fed by Gary Dornhoeffer, a veteran of three National Hockey League games.

Dornhoeffer cleverly faked the goalie out of his net twice and fired the puck to Bucyk, who collected his first goals in 12 games and led the Bruins to a 6-3 victory over Toronto Sunday night that ended Boston's 11-game winless streak.

Bucyk had not scored and the Bruins had not won since Dec. 15. Then along came Dornhoeffer.

The loss left Toronto in a second-place tie with the Montreal Canadiens, who defeated first-place Chicago 2-1 on Boom Geoffrion's tie-breaking goal. The Hawks are on top with 51 points, three more than the Leafs and Canadiens.

Gordie Howe scored two goals and assisted on another as Detroit snapped New York's four-game winning streak with a 5-3 victory.

In Saturday's games, Chicago whipped Detroit 6-3 and Toronto defeated Boston 3-1.

Two tips to cut oil bills

- 1. Don't block heat outlets. Keep both heat and cold air return ducts free.
- 2. Use a heating oil that helps guard against deposit build-up in burner passages. In a clean, well adjusted burner, Shell Heating Oil can reduce fuel consumption significantly.

Peggy Fleming, 15, Takes Women's Championship

CLEVELAND (AP) — United States hopes for a figure skating victory in the 1964 Olympic Games rest on the shoulders of a fancy-skating crew whose average age is slightly under 17. And leading the men's contingent is the youngest U.S. national champion ever, 14-year-old Scott Ethan Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J.

Allen Fleming

The women's division will be led by freckle-faced Peggy Fleming, 15, of Pasadena, Calif. By contrast, the senior pairs finalists picked Sunday in finals at the National Figure Skating championships to look like seasoned veterans. Judianne Folheringill, 19, and her brother, Jerry, 21, who have been on the U.S. world team the past two years, were almost unanimous choices for the national pairs title.

Repeated Applause

Allen, a slender bundle of energy whose relaxed and graceful skating style drew repeated applause from the Cleveland Arena crowd, edged defending singles champion Tommy Litz, 18, of Hershey, Pa., by a hair.

In third place was Monty Hoyt, 19, of Denver, a former national champion and veteran of two world meets.

Qualifying for the Olympic Games at Innsbruck, Austria, Jan. 29-Feb. 9, were the top three in senior men's, ladies' and pairs divisions.

Miss Fleming, who never before won a national title, will be accompanied by Albertina Noves, 15, of Arlington, Mass., and Christine Haigler of Colorado Springs, Colo., who just turned 16 last week. Misses Noves and Haigler placed second and third respectively, behind Miss Fleming in the nationals.

All three top pairs teams are brother-sister duos. Runner-up to the Fotheringills in the championships were Vivian, 15, and Ronald Joseph, 19, of Highland Park, Ill. In third place were Cynthia Kauffman, 15, and her brother, Ronald, 17.

Also winning a trip to Europe, although they won't be in Olympic competition, were the top three couples in the gold dance. That team, led by Darlene Streich, and Charles Fetter, Jr., both 20, of Indianapolis, will compete in the World Figure Skating Championships at Dortmund, West Germany, Feb. 25-29.

2 Youngsters Leap 191 Feet At Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE (AP)—Youngsters Dave Norby of Madison and Tom Peterson of Iron Mountain, Mich., each recorded leaps of 191 feet to top the field in the annual ski jumping tournament of the Eau Claire Ski Club Sunday.

Headwinds of about 10 miles per hour frustrated the field of 110 entrants, bidding to break the Hendrickson Hill record of 199 feet. A crowd of about 4,000 persons watched the 21st annual meet in 10 degree weather.

Norby, who took the Class B title, and Peterson, who topped the juniors, reached 191 feet on their second leaps. Norby's first jump was 186 feet as he rolled up 213.1 points. Peterson, who scored 204.5 points, had a first leap of 155 feet.

Bob Wedin of Iron Mountain took Class A honors on 221.5 points, awarded on jumps of 187 and 113 feet. Wedin was tied for most graceful rider honors by Eau Claire's Billy Olson, who was second in Class A with jumps of 179 and 162 feet for 210.5 points.

Lloyd Severud of Eau Claire won another veterans crown on leaps of 172 and 163 points.

New Football Rule Adopted

the plea of 90 per cent of the coaches for an end to rule restrictions.

"This is the nearest they could possibly come to what they wanted," Curtice said. "This is a reasonable rule."

By overwhelming majority, coaches all around the nation applauded the committee's action.

College football's two platoon system was abruptly outlawed in January 1953, and the one-way specialist went into discard, when a drastic rule was adopted providing that no player withdrawn from a game could return in the same period.

Almost every year since then, there has been a gradual relaxation of the rule.

Under the new system, platoons may be sent into a game any time the clock is stopped. Two players may enter any time when the clock is running.

Without Loss

There are ample opportunities for platooning without loss of a time out. The clock stops when the ball goes out of bounds or is kicked over the goal. It stops while an official marches off a penalty. It stops during a first down measurement, after an incomplete pass and after a score.

Only when the clock is running, and a team has used all its time outs, will a coach be stymied in his desire to send in a fresh platoon.

Other rules adopted by the committee Sunday will:

Permit the elevation of goal post uprights to any desired height beyond the present maximum of 20 feet. This is to prevent indecision on whether a ball going directly over a post is fair or foul. Borderline kicks would strike the higher post.

Make it a personal foul for a player to ram an opponent in the head, face or neck with his helmet or head.

Make it illegal for any member of a receiving team to advance the ball after a fair catch is signaled on a punt. Previously, the ball could be advanced if it touched ground or an opponent.

Kerr joined the other three Sunday when he played in his 767th consecutive National Basketball Association game, both regular season and playoff, eclipsing the record set by his Philadelphia coach, Dolph Schayes.

Despite Kerr's continuing iron man efforts and a 19-point performance, the 76ers lost to the Boston Celtics, 123-112. Bill Russell scored 22 points and pulled down 30 rebounds for the Celtics, who maintained their two-game lead over Cincinnati in the Eastern Division.

The Royals rode the scoring of Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas to a 120-88 walloping of Detroit. In other games, Gus Johnson sparked Baltimore to a 117-113 victory over St. Louis, and San Francisco pulled away in the last period for a 112-105 victory over New York's touring Knickerbockers at Oakland, Calif.

Willie Naulls scored 23 points and Sam Jones 21 for the Celtics, who built a 33-23 first period lead. The 76ers battled back to within 59-53 at the half, but Boston pulled away after that. Chel Walker was the high scorer for Philadelphia with 26 points.

Halas Pays Tribute to West Team's Defensive Line and Johnny Unitas

LOS ANGELES (AP)—George Halas, coach of the world champion Chicago Bears, gave six main reasons why his West team defeated the East 31-17 Sunday in the annual Pro Bowl battle.

"They were Gino Marchetti (Colts), Willie Davis (Packers), Merlin Olsen (Rams), Roger Brown (Lions), Henry Jordan (Packers) and Doug Atkins (Bears)," he said in the dressing room. "That was our defensive line."

The West put a tremendous rush on East quarterback Charley Johnson of the St. Louis Cardinals and it paid off for three interceptions, one for a touchdown by Jesse Whitenton of Green Bay in the third quarter.

Marchetti, who announced his retirement from football, was named lineman of the game. His teammate, quarterback Johnny Unitas, was named the top back. "It was a well-balanced team effort all the way," said Halas. "Initially, Johnny Unitas got us going on offense. After that, we were able to hold our lead pretty well."

Splendid Job

"I thought the defense did a splendid job. The rush was the key to the interceptions. The one by Abe Woodson (49ers) in the first half stopped what could have been a very important score for the East. That really helped."

It was the first time Halas had ever been named to coach in the All-Star classic.

Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants, making his third straight appearance as the East Coach, said that once the East fell behind it seemed to force its offensive maneuvers.

"We missed a couple of opportunities and once the score mounted, it got very difficult for us."

"I thought, however, that the West played an unusually fine game. And they were able to capitalize on their opportunities. We didn't."

Last year, Sherman's East team defeated the West 30-20.

Sherman refused to speculate on how the game might have turned out if his star New York quarterback, Y. A. Tittle, had been able to play.

Tittle suffered a knee injury in the first quarter of the National Football League's championship game with the Bears in Chicago and was forced to withdraw from the Pro Bowl.

"Those torn ligaments neutralized him," said Sherman.

Xavier JV '5' Scores Pair Of Victories

Xavier's unbeaten junior varsity reeled off two more victories over the weekend. The junior Hawks nipped DePere Abbott Pennings, 40-39, Friday night and scored a 50-27 victory over Wausau Newman Sunday afternoon.

Mike Heideman paced the attack against Pennings with 20 points. Steve Schmieder set the pace against Newman, with 13.

Oklahoma State Eyes 696th Victory for Iba; DePaul Stays Unbeaten

UCLA Scores 13th Consecutive Win; Davidson '5' Cops

BY MIKE RATHET

Hank Iba can catch Adolph Rupp tonight on the way to Ed Diddle's Club, an exclusive organization which has 700 prerequisites.

Diddle, basketball coach at Western Kentucky, currently is the board of directors and the entire membership of college basketball's 700 - victory club. But Iba and Rupp are just about ready to have their applications processed.

Iba can make it 696 victories in a 35-year career if his Oklahoma State Cowboys, co-leaders of the Big Eight Conference, defeat Kansas State tonight. That would move Iba into a tie with Rupp, whose 34 Kentucky teams also have won 696 games. Diddle, the dean, has 755 victories.

Improve Records

Both unranked Oklahoma State and Kentucky, second-ranked in the nation, improved their records on a form-filled Saturday night program — the first this season in which not one member of the top ten came out without a victory.

Oklahoma State rode Gary Hassman's 20 - point performance to a 67-56 triumph over Oklahoma, a 10-3 over-all record, and a tie with Nebraska for the Big Eight lead at 2-0. A victory got against Kansas State tonight will give the Cowboys undisputed possession of first place.

Cotton Nash's 34 points triggered a Kentucky offense that ripped Tulane 105-63, brought the Wildcats' record to 12-2 and left them with a 2-2 Southeastern Conference mark. Kentucky next meets Tennessee, leading the SEC with a 3-0 record.

Besides Kentucky, eight other members of the top ten were in action Saturday—and all won. Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago took the night off.

But DePaul, bidding for a national ranking, ran its record to 11-0 by running over Portland 111-83.

13th Straight

UCLA won its 13th straight battle in a 35-year career if his Oklahoma State Cowboys, co-leaders of the Big Eight Conference, defeat Kansas State tonight. That would move Iba into a tie with Rupp, whose 34 Kentucky teams also have won 696 games. Diddle, the dean, has 755 victories.

Both unranked Oklahoma State and Kentucky, second-ranked in the nation, improved their records on a form-filled Saturday night program — the first this season in which not one member of the top ten came out without a victory.

Oklahoma State rode Gary Hassman's 20 - point performance to a 67-56 triumph over Oklahoma, a 10-3 over-all record, and a tie with Nebraska for the Big Eight lead at 2-0. A victory got against Kansas State tonight will give the Cowboys undisputed possession of first place.

Cotton Nash's 34 points triggered a Kentucky offense that ripped Tulane 105-63, brought the Wildcats' record to 12-2 and left them with a 2-2 Southeast-

Lubenow Tops Tice To Highlight 24-15 Victory

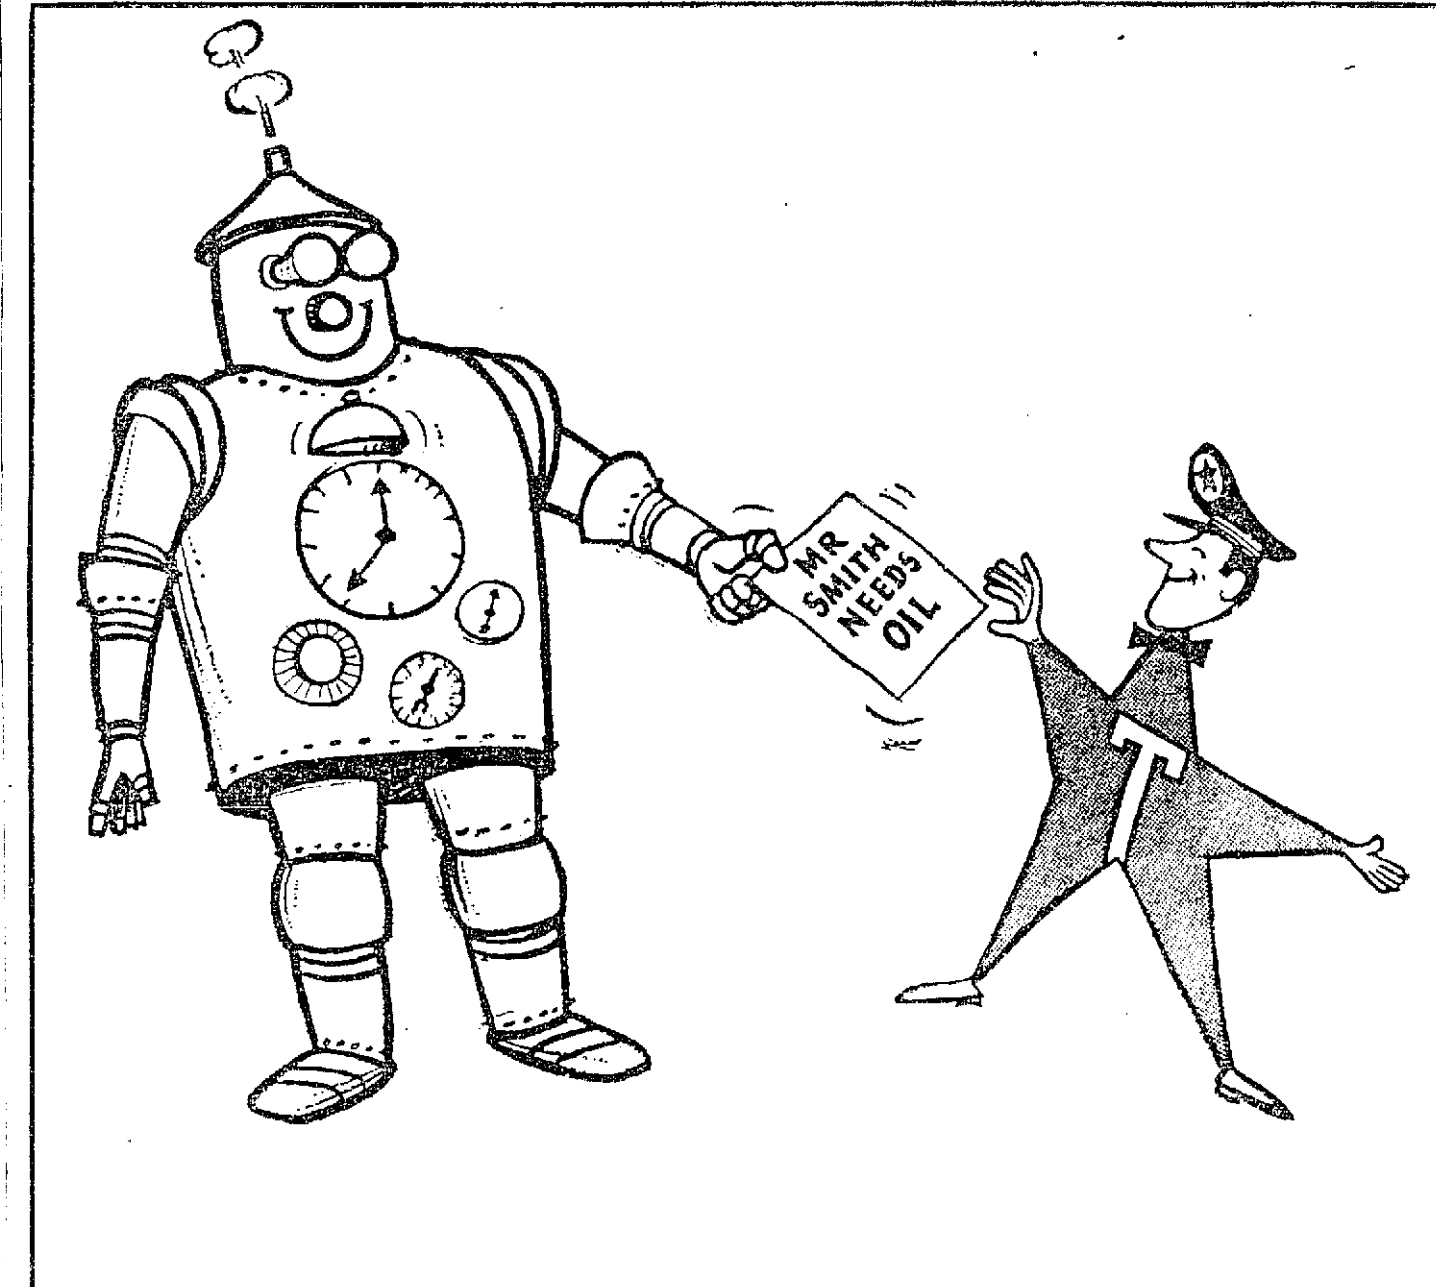

The Lawrence College wrestling team pulled a major upset and scored its first dual meet win in two seasons Saturday by defeating Ripon, 24-15, at Alexander gymnasium.

Turning point of the meet was the Vikings win in the 147-pound class where co-captain Joe Lubenow, one of two seniors on the team, defeated Larry Tice of Ripon, 5-4. It was the first time in three seasons that Lubenow was able to defeat Tice.

Following Lubenow's win, sophomore Al Blomgren, of Lawrence, pulled another surprise by pinning Jerry Haag in 1:27.

Other winners for Lawrence included Ed Plass over Ed Lenehard, 3-2, at 123 pounds; The Wolverines, who Bill Reeves over Jerry Rudat, 1-0, at 167 pounds; John Hepper, actually won from the line by outscoring the heavy-weight title by forfeit.

Oregon State scored 10 in the freshman meet. Ripon defeated Lawrence, 24-15. The first half for a 23-17 lead and only individual win for Lawrence came when Rich Agness pinned Mel his opponent at 177 pounds.

Mottley Sets Indoor Mark For 500 Yards

John Thomas Making Comeback, High Jumps 7-2

BY BOB HOOBING
BOSTON (AP) — Wendell Mottley just keeps running faster to build endurance. High jumper John Thomas is making a comeback at 22 with the help of ballet.

Both are working on Olympic timetables aimed at October in Tokyo.

Mottley, a Yale economics major who will be competing for Trinidad in Japan, stole the spotlight and won the John F. Kennedy Trophy as the outstanding athlete in the Boston Knights of Columbus games Saturday. He ran to an indoor record 55.5 clocking in the 500 yard run as the Eastern banked double season began.

Pushed Himself
Without even a hint of a competitive challenge, Mottley pushed himself to clip nearly a second off the listed mark. En route his coach, Bob Geirgack, unofficially caught Mottley in 47.5 for the 440 compared to the indoor record of 48.2.

The 500 standard is 56.4 set by Herb McKinley seven years ago and twice equalled.

Thomas was Mottley's closest challenger for individual honors, winning his specialty at 7-2 a week after doing 7-1 at San Francisco. Yet less than a year ago many were saying Thomas was through. He had gotten into lazy habits which he couldn't cure himself and was losing confidence.

The Thomas whose meteoric rise in 1959 was halted by the Russians at the Rome Olympics never quite hit that razor sharpness again. Last year John put in a call to his high school coach, Tom Duff, for help.

"We've worked three nights a week ever since," Duff said. "He had to have his confidence rebuilt. Those losses to Valery Brumel affected him psychologically and that just wears away at you."

"Ballet lessons? Why not? They tend to loosen up the thigh muscles, give greater spring and they relax an athlete. And when a man is relaxed he's confident. When he's confident, he's ready."

Missed at 7-4 1/2
Thomas successively cleared 7-0, 7-1 and 7-2 on the second try, then missed at 7-4 1/2, a quarter of an inch higher than Brumel's indoor mark. John now owns over 100 jumps of seven feet or higher.

The pole vault was a disappointment for those who expected a moonshot. John Uelses of LaSalle won at 16-1 1/2, commenting: "I was jumping from memory. It was the first time I'd touched my pole since August."

Sullivan award winner John Pennel, world's only 17 foot vaulter, got no higher than 15-0. Although he refused to alibi he had a virus and was a stranger to the boards.

Bob Schul, 26-year-old Miami of Ohio freshman, ran the second fastest three miles ever indoors 13:31.4, pushed by 19-year-old Canadian Chris Williamson.

Miller Tom O'Hara, 4:06.3, and Canada's Bill Crothers in the 1,000, 2:10.7, weren't pleased with their times.

Other winners: Hayes Jones, 45-yard high hurdles, 5.5 in 48th straight meet victory; Sam Perry, 50-yard dash, 5.3; Jay Luck, 600, 1:10.5.

More Than 60 Skiers Compete in Navarino

Iola's Olskanski Wins Title in Open Class

Post-Crescent Staff Writer
NAVARINO — With the temperature hovering near the 10-degree mark, over 60 skiers braved a bone chilling 25 to 30 mile per hour north wind to take part in the 14th annual Navarino ski jumping tournament, here Sunday afternoon.

Jumpers many times had to sacrifice distance to maintain form and balance as the stiff wind blowing into their face threatened to upset the airborne skiers as they came off the 55-foot high scaffold.

Although the hill was slightly altered during the summer by extending the takeoff, none of the jumpers Sunday were able to near the hill record of 84 feet. Perry Moore, Stevens Point, who was the winner of the "most graceful rider" award, turned in the longest standing jump, a 72-footer. Entered in class "A," competition, Moore had a 69 foot ride on his first jump.

The tournament drew jumpers from clubs in Navarino, Iola, Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids and Nekeosa. The event was held at Pies' Hill, west of Navarino and was sponsored by the Navarino Winter Sports Club.

Class D Winner
For skiers in class "D," which is open to jumpers under the age of 12, a small jump to the west of the big landing was used. Winner of this class was Dennis Sarver, Nekeosa, with jumps of 18 and 20 feet and total points of 143.0. Second place went to Chuck Goodness, also from the Nekeosa club with jumps of 19 and 18 feet and 113.0 points.

Class C winners were, Corey Arneson, Wisconsin Rapids, jumps of 66 and 57 feet, 143.0 points; Byron Amundson, Iola, jumps of 49 and 45 feet, 116.9 points; Jack Sarver, Nekeosa, jumps of 43 and 48 feet and 113.2 points. Class C consists of skiers between the ages of 12 and 14.

In Class B which is open to jumpers between the ages of 14 and 16, John Dekarske, Wisconsin Rapids, placed first with jumps of 66 and 67 feet for a total point score of 141.5. Second place of the class went to Jim Barwick, Stevens Point, 61 and 69 feet and 129.9 points. Third place was taken by Brad Knutson, Stevens Point, with jumps of 49 and 60 feet and total points of 128.8.

The first place winner of Class A which is for riders in the 16 to 18 year old bracket, was Perry Moore, Moore was followed by Dan Vohrs, Nekeosa, who had rides of 63 and 61 feet and a total of 126.9 points. Jim Gervath, Navarino, took third place with 125.6 points. He had jumps of 69 feet and 73 feet but on his final ride he fell, nullifying the longest jump of the day.

First place in the open class which is for jumpers over 18 years old went to Roger Olskanski, Iola, who collected 144.5 points on rides of 64 and 68 feet. The second place award was won by Lenny Goodness, Wisconsin Rapids, with a pair of 64-foot jumps and 138.8 points. Bill Arneson, Wisconsin Rapids,

Minding Your Business

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

HOW TO BUILD CONFIDENCE WHEN STARTING A NEW JOB

DEAR CY:
Several friends, who are in sandwiches...but the manufacturer still knows what he promotes for me to work for a large manufacturer, although I am 39 years old. I have always been in farming and want to be a success with this new job. The worry is I have no confidence in succeeding. How can I overcome the mental anguish of starting a new job? I feel your answer will mean the most to me.

FARMER:
Confidence is belief in your abilities. This has to be nourished. Confidence can be compartmented in one line or transferable to other endeavors, as with many successful men and women. Having always been a farmer, it isn't weird that you lack confidence outside your specialty. When you planted corn, with every seed, sprout and golden ear, your confidence in farming grew. So it will be, with every move, in manufacturing. Quit making a big deal of starting a new job. Most everyone shakes a little when they enter a strange company door. Hang up your coat and follow directions. Be adaptable, study your business, and overwork yourself. Soon you'll start in grinning. Cheers! That's when you'll know new confidence is sprouting.

DEAR CY:
I'm the forgetful type, and never send in warranty or guarantee cards when I buy household appliances. The part I am supposed to keep, I lose. If something goes haywire with my radio, TV, washer or refrigerator, am I still covered? Your recent column didn't state whether manufacturers will make good on repairs when the buyer hasn't followed directions regarding these cards. Are many people as forgetful about this as I am?

PHYLLIS K. R.
DEAR PHYLLIS:
Guarantee or warranty cards may be lost, carefully mislaid

Proposal Would Ban Autos From UW Madison Campus

The pedestrian will be king on the University of Wisconsin, Madison campus if the university adopts the tentative planning policies which the Campus Planning Committee reported to university regents Friday.

The 27 policy statements envision controlling vehicle traffic in the central portion of the campus, providing peripheral parking, improving the mass transportation system, and separating pedestrian and vehicle traffic with walkways and pedestrian bridges.

No Vehicles
Labeled "tentative" by the Campus Planning Committee and included in a progress report, the policies were not submitted to the regents for approval at Friday's meeting. The committee indicated it is interested in reactions before proceeding with long-range plans.

Under the proposals, an area would be closed to all vehicles — including bicycles — except emergency, service, maintenance, and delivery vehicles, campus buses, taxicabs, vehicles carrying official visitors, parking permit vehicles, and others specifically authorized.

Entry to this area would be through gates manned at three points. At these entrances there would be special visitor parking. The policies would not ban student cars, but make no provision for their parking. The report stresses "the basic modes of student travel to and from campus should be by foot, by bicycle, and by public transportation, except where the motor vehicle is the only feasible means of transportation."

'Nice Kid Sobs At Arraignment On Murder Count

NEW YORK (AP)—A youth described by police as a "bright, nice kid" sobbed bitterly in court Sunday as he was arraigned in the murder of his sweetheart.

Richard F. Bell Jr., 19, a telephone switchman from Blauvelt, N.Y., is accused of strangling 18-year-old Carol Yvonne Hughes of Pearl River, N.Y., in Central Park Friday night. Her body was found Sunday.

Bell was arraigned on a homicide charge and held without bail.

Police said Bell admitted strangling Miss Hughes with her scarf after she told him she was pregnant and demanded an early marriage.

Police said an autopsy showed she was not pregnant.

Stokely-Van Camp Plans Merger With Two Subsidiaries

Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., plans to merge with two subsidiaries, one wholly owned and the other 67 per cent owned by Stokely, the Wall Street Journal said today.

The company, which processes canned and frozen food said it intends to increase its authorized common stock to 4.5 million shares from 3 million. There were 2,188,480 shares outstanding last May 31.

(Stokely-Van Camp operates a canning factory at 1820 W. Eighth St., Appleton.)

Alfred J. Stokely, company president, said the company planned to offer one Stokely share for each outstanding share of Capital City Products Co., Columbus, Ohio, a vegetable oil and shortening concern. Of the 399,400 Capital City shares outstanding, 266,728 are owned by Stokely.

The 131,672 Capital City shares not owned by Stokely would be purchased for $3,028,456 in Stokely stock. Stokely holders will be asked to approve the measures at a special meeting in Indianapolis April 1. Stokely also proposes to merge with a wholly owned subsidiary, Pomona Products Co., which makes canned goods.

Beau's Corsages Embarrass 9-Year-Old Grade Schooler

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: Almost every day this winter I have had an argument with my 13-year-old boy about how much warm clothing he wears. Even though the weather is cold, he insists he's too warm with his boat buttoned.

I have to admit that he has stayed healthy. But he looks crazy with his coat wide open when everyone else is bundled up. I'm sure this is just some adolescent notion that he won't admit is silly.

MRS. A.R. It really doesn't matter much if this is primarily a difference in body reaction or the result of some image he's emotionally committed to. Sensitivity to cold is easily influenced by emotions. So long as he feels red-hot and raring to go and he isn't catching cold, don't nag. Save your opposition for the times that really count.

Dear Dr. Jones: My 3-year-old boy won't leave my side. He wakes up several times during the night crying, "I want you, Mommy." And he even cries when I leave him with his father.

I know he's probably upset because we moved recently. All so his little sister is starting to crawl around and demand more attention from me. And she gets into his things, too. So he's jealous of her.

But these things haven't really caused him to be clinging and whining. He was like that before, too.

MRS. V.E. He's probably whining because you're asking too much of him and not giving him all the satisfactions and freedom a child this age needs. And he's probably afraid to let you out of his sight because he's afraid you may get hurt. This kind of reaction is common at this age when children are afraid their inner resentments may show through.

When he wakes, tell him you won't let anyone hurt him because you love him — even though he may think sometimes you don't because you get angry with him. And tell him you won't let him hurt anyone, even though you know occasionally he gets angry, too. At night, tell him you won't let him keep you from sleeping, so good night.

With suitable alterations, repeat the same reassurances during the daytime. Keep his sister from pestering him. Let him be the boss of how much he eats, when he uses the toilet, how hard he plays, etc. As his inner pressures go down, his fears should decrease.

To receive a copy of Dr. Jones's pamphlet, "To Spank or Not To Spank," send 15c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Eve Jones, c/o this newspaper.

East, Midwest Hit By Heavy Snowfall

Public Reaction Is Awaited on Smoking Data

Legislation Sought For Strong Controls Over Ads and Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American smoker—still lingering over the grim facts of a federal report branding cigarettes a health hazard—is center stage to a big audience this week. Legislators, investors, tobacco growers, cigarette manufacturers, legal and health authorities want to know first and foremost: Will he quit or not? Will he cut down? What will happen to cigarette sales?

Republic Proclaimed After Revolt by Nationalists

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — Shooting and looting were reported today on Zanzibar, newest member of the British Commonwealth whose Arab government was overthrown by African nationalists. The ousted sultan, Seyyid Jamshid Bin Abdulla, was believed to be fleeing up the coast in his yacht, leaving the republic in the hands of his political foes after Sunday's coup. Frederick P. Picard, U.S. consul in Zanzibar, said by telephone the situation is still delicate and he is trying to get 21 U.S. women and children removed from the island nation off Africa's east coast. There are 57 Americans stationed at a tracking station for the Project Mercury satellite program. They appeared in no immediate danger but Picard told the U.S. Embassy in Dar es Salaam he wanted to get the dependents on the destroyer Manley cruising offshore.

Drifts Block Roads, Strand Motorists; Some Communities Isolated; New Storms Feared

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A massive snowstorm, described by the Weather Bureau as the winter's worst, snarled across the eastern United States today. Numerous highways were blocked, hundreds of motorists stranded and communities isolated as gale-force winds piled the snow into drifts as much as 10 feet deep. Hundreds of schools in the Midwest, Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania were closed. The gigantic storm system—which began as two separate storms, one from the Midwest moving East and the other moving northeast along the Atlantic states—generated high tides and gale force winds along the Atlantic coastal regions. The snow and ice dipped into the South. Light snow and freezing rain were reported in Tennessee, North Carolina, Alabama and Georgia. West of the Mississippi, clear skies and cold temperatures were the rule. Below zero temperatures prevailed over much of the northern and central plains states and the western interior.

15 Men Hurt in Milwaukee Blast

MILWAUKEE (AP)—At least 15 workmen were injured today when an underground explosion rocked a sewer excavation on Milwaukee's West Side. The cause was not immediately determined. The blast shattered windows in a truck terminal warehouse across the street. First reports indicated that as many as 10 men had been trapped. After 15 were removed, the Fire Department said it believed that all persons who were in the excavation at the time of the explosion had been taken out.

Scranton Expected To Enter GOP Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman William E. Miller says he has been assured by persons close to Gov. William W. Scranton that they expect the Pennsylvanian to seek the GOP presidential nomination. Miller said Sunday he had received no assurance from Scranton that he would enter the race. The governor has insisted he will not seek the nomination, though he's willing to accept it if drafted. But Craig Truax, Pennsylvania Republican chairman, said, "I and many others believe that he (Scranton) will be involved in it (the nomination scramble) before the year is over."

Big Jet Bomber Crashes, Burns During Storm

No Word on Fate Of 5 Crewmen in Mountain Tragedy

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—A huge Air Force jet bomber crashed and burned in a snowstorm in the Appalachian Mountains of western Maryland early today. It was not known if any of the five crewmen survived. Rescue teams were bailed by snow-clogged roads. Heavy plows were called in to try to open a path to the crash scene on Elbow Mountain, a 3,000-foot peak, about 20 miles west of Cumberland. The temperature was near zero. Snow was more than a foot deep and drifting. The aircraft, an eight-engine B52, was en route from Westover Air Force Base, Mass., to its home station at Turner AFB, Ga., when it went down in the swirling snowstorm. It left Westover at 12:48 a.m. EST and was due at Turner at 3:15 a.m.

Reported Heavy Storm

Capt. Paul Clevenger of the Civil Air Patrol, said a crewman on the plane radioed Washington and told of extreme turbulence at 29,000 feet. The crewman got permission to fly at 33,000 feet. Clevenger said. At 31,000 feet, he said there was a garbled radio transmission "stating something about bailing out."

Mother and Her 8 Children Die in New Jersey Fire

PORT NORRIS, N.J. (AP)—Flames destroyed a two-room frame house, killing Mrs. Virginia Johnson and her eight children Sunday. The bodies of Mrs. Johnson, 26, and four children were found near a door. The door opened inward and was blocked by a bed. The dead children were David, 11; Roxanne, 10; Alice Jean, 9; Daniel, 7; Margaret, 6; Virginia, 4; Tracy Lee, 2 and Nicky, 10 months. Their father, David D. Johnson, was on an oyster boat in the Atlantic Ocean at the time.

Wants More Soviet Aid?

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro arrived today on a surprise visit to Premier Khrushchev with more Soviet economic aid for Cuba presumably his aim. The Cuban leader may have trouble getting an increase in help. Khrushchev is spending hundreds of millions of dollars to buy wheat from Canada, Australia and the United States, and he has embarked on a massive expansion of the Soviet chemical industry. Khrushchev gave Castro the same red carpet welcome as last April, when Castro visited the Soviet Union for five weeks. The Soviet premier was at the airport along with other officials. Castro said his visit would be considerably shorter than his stay last year because he had to return to Cuba for the sugar harvest now under way. Surprise Visit His visit took Western diplomatic colony and the State Department in Washington by surprise. So were the Cuban people who, hours after his departure, had not been informed. A communique said Khrushchev had invited Castro "to exchange opinions on questions of interest to both sides and also to rest."

Castro Pays Surprise Visit to Khrushchev

A Cuban economic delegation has been in Moscow for 11 days, reportedly asking for a big increase in aid. It seemed likely that Castro came to add his pleas to the delegation's. It also appeared likely that Khrushchev and Castro would join in a denunciation of U.S. policy in Panama. U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Sunday that Castro is partly to blame for the rioting along the border of the Panama Canal Zone.

5-Man Delegation Seeks Agreement on Technical Details in Discussions

PANAMA (AP)—Amid some signs of diminishing tension between the United States and Panama, U.S. personnel returned today to the embassy building in downtown Panama. Diplomatic sources reported that the United States and Panama agreed to set up a joint authority with the Organization of American States in an effort to keep peace along the restive Canal Zone border. But agreement on machinery for the peace-keeping operation remained to be worked out in a final meeting of the OAS mission with U.S. and Panama representatives before the mission returns to Washington. Treaty Assailed U.S. personnel quit the embassy building and burned secret papers Saturday, fearing that the building might become a target for anti-U.S. demonstrations. Panama has broken relations with the United States and demanded guarantees for revision of the 61-year-old Panama Canal treaty in the wake of U.S.-Panamanian clashes on the Canal Zone border. The five-man delegation from the OAS arranged for a final meeting today to settle technical details for the peace authority proposed by Argentina. Informants said the United States and Panama would each have one military man and civilian on the authority, with a neutral OAS representative as chairman. Alfredo Vazquez Car-

New Massacres Reported

Theft of Relic From Mohammed Cause Hindu-Moslem Outbreaks

BY HENRY S. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The theft of a sacred Moslem relic in Kashmir has mushroomed into the worst outbreak of Hindu-Moslem violence since hundreds of thousands were killed in the 1947 massacres that followed partitioning of the Indian subcontinent. Hindus are killing Moslems in Calcutta, India's largest city, and Moslems are killing Hindus in villages of East Pakistan, just east of Calcutta. Both Indian and Pakistani governments are reluctant to disclose the full horror of what is happening, partly for fear that the violence will spread. Death Toll May Grow The official death toll in the Calcutta area was 75 Sunday. Unconfirmed reports circulating in responsible quarters in Calcutta indicate the number is far higher. The highest figure responsibly reported from East Pakistan is 29 deaths. But Hindu refugees reaching Calcutta have indicated the number is greater. Hatred between Hindus and Moslems has long existed in what used to be British India. It stems from economic and power rivalries as well as religious differences. Millions Leave Homes When the British prepared to give India independence, the Moslems demanded a separate nation. Pakistan was carved in two pieces out of the subcontinent.

Many Hindus found themselves living in Pakistan or many Moslems in India. Millions left their ancestral homes to migrate. In the mass transfer, hundreds of thousands were killed in an orgy of vengeful communal warfare. Some 10 per cent of India's 440 million people are Moslems, and millions of Hindus remain in East Pakistan. There have been periodic outbreaks of violence in both countries. Theft of Relic None has been as bad as what began last week. It was touched off by the theft Dec. 26 in Srinagar, capital of the Indian-controlled part of Kashmir, of a hair believed to be from the head of the Prophet Mohammed. Demonstrations in predominantly Moslem Srinagar turned against the government rather than taking a violently religious turn. Pakistani officials charged the theft was part of an effort to subjugate Kashmir's Moslems. They refused to believe the Indian announcement Jan. 4 that the hair had been found. At Khulna, East Pakistan, 75 miles east of Calcutta, a demonstration protested against the theft. What happened next is unclear, but there was violence. The Pakistani government denied the violence was of a religious nature. But Calcutta newspapers began publishing reports from refugees that Moslems had butchered Hindus because of the prophet's hair.

That set Calcutta aflame. History indicates the frenzy will pass off soon. But history also indicates it will return again.

New Fashion Look Defies Description

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The teen-agers' ideal dress—one with a built-in telephone—was forecast here Thursday as a fashion probability seven years hence. Thought-recording earrings, heating and cooling units, radios and a combination shoe and stocking also may be part of the female wardrobe in 1970 or '71, actor Kirk Douglas said. He spoke at a crystal ball-gazing luncheon arranged as a part of the weeklong spring press preview program. Seven well-known international designers contributed their predictions, but among these the heroine of the American husband, will be designer Mollie Parnis. She created one black costume which, by interchanging the units, can be worn seven days without looking the same way twice.

Uniforms

Italian couturier Federico Forquet believes that soon women in uniforms such as nurses, waitresses, will wear short trousers and overblouses, and that movable lens-visors will replace spectacles.

Contending that extra-sensory perception and astrology will have a greater influence on our lives in the years hence, lines

Svensson of Sweden dreamed up those thought-recorder earrings, Simonetta of Italy and Paris cooked up Robinhood-like shoe-stockings to be worn with skirts five inches above the knees.

The Telephone

The telephone, pinned to a suit lapel, is Spanish designer Elio Berhanyer's contribution to loquacious adolescents.

He, Bud Kilpatrick of California and Sybil Connolly of Ireland are convinced that clothes will be temperature-controlled with transistors.

By contrast, England's couturier John Cavanagh predicts women will don jersey knickers and Grecian cross-draped top-pers for work and play in seven years.

Girl Watcher Has Excuse for Study of Faces

BY JAMES CALOGERO

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Harvey Peck, 26 and single is a girl watcher with a cause: He's looking for the perfect face.

Peck has been studying girls (just their faces; other facets of girl watching are for amateurs) for a year. He still has a year to go on his project. Nonetheless, Peck has reached some tentative conclusions, to wit:

"American and international beauties have a tendency toward a toothy, full profile, rather than a straight profile."

"A 'toothy, full profile' is sort of a pout. Perfect examples of the type, says Peck, are Sophia Loren, Brigitte Bardot and Doris Day."

Lovely Bones

They lack the orthognathic profile, he says. On the other hand there's nothing whatever wrong with the vertical and forward growth of their mandibles.

Or, to put it another way, they don't have straight line profiles, but their jaw bones are lovely, just lovely.

Now Peck wants it understood that a pretty pout is not a prerequisite for beauty. For example, there's Grace Kelly, Elizabeth Taylor and Debbie Reynolds. They have straight line profiles.

So far, Peck has examined the faces of 35 women. None of the aforementioned lovelies was included, but he concentrates on recognized beauties such as models and beauty contest winners.

Guide to Ideal

This is serious work for Peck, a resident orthodontist at the Boston University Medical Center. He says results of his study titled "a photographic and cephalometric study of facial symmetry and balance," may provide orthodontists with a guide to the ideal face.

Peck says it's possible to change the lower face profile of a child up to the age of 14 through orthodontic therapy.

Level Off Floor for Tiling

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: We want to finish our basement so that we can use it as a TV room and for occasional guests. The basement is very dry and we have no dampness problem in it. However, the concrete floor is very rough and uneven. We want to put down an asphalt tile floor over this. Is there any material we can use to give us a smooth, even surface?

A: Tile dealers have a floor-leveling compound which is used to level off concrete and wood floors before putting down tile. Instructions for using this material are available from the dealer. If the floor is too uneven and irregular to use this material, a concrete topping can be put down. The Portland Cement Association, 33 W. Grand Ave., Chicago 10, has instruction sheets available on request for laying new concrete floor.

Q: Our foundation wall in the basement is built of brick. The mortar between the bricks seems very sandy and is falling out. Would painting the walls remedy this?

A: It is worthless to try rescuing too-sandy mortar with paint. The mortar was improperly mixed originally, but you may be able to preserve it by treating it with liquid cement hardener, available at masonry supplies and some large hardware stores. If unsuccessful, then the only practical remedy is to rake out the loose mortar to a depth of at least half an inch (an inch is even better) and trowel in some properly mixed mortar, or latex patching concrete.

Q: We are having a hard time keeping our towel bars and toilet article holders fastened in dry wall. We screw plastic shield in too, but they do not hold. What do you suggest trying?

A: Special expansion fasteners for hanging brackets, shelves, hooks, etc., on dry walls, hollow core doors, etc., are widely available at variety and hardware stores. One new one is very easy to use: A hole is drilled where the fastener is needed, a little nylon cylinder pushed in and the threaded nail tapped in with a hammer. Sidewise expansion takes place with the tapping, giving almost permanent fastening.

Luncheon Plans Set by Members Of Hadassah

The annual potato pancake luncheon of the Appleton Chapter of Hadassah will take place at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Moses Montefiore social center. Proceeds from the luncheon will be used for Hadassah supplies. Serving as chairmen will be Mrs. Jack Pielkow and Mrs. Marvin Kagan.

The committee is composed of Mrs. Eli Fielkow, Mrs. Goldie Brooks, Mrs. Lester Chudacoff, Mrs. Jake Golper and Mrs. Frank Cohen.

Mrs. Charles T. Cohen, Milwaukee, past president of the Midwest region will show slides and comment on her recent trip around the world. Mrs. Cohen serves as chairman of leadership training for the Midwest region.

Cleanse Makeup Brushes Frequently

If the "little" brushes you use for powder, eye make-up, and other cosmetics have built up an oily residue or "goo," soak them briefly in a small bowl of cleaning fluid. Follow up by washing them promptly in plenty of hot soap or detergent suds and rinses.

Corrective Make-Up

A lovely writes: I have the skin tone and give a filmy finish. Most peculiar puffs under my eyes. They aren't white like most puffs, but quite dark. I tried to cover them with white make-up, made for dark circles. Well, this softened the color but

As for application, coat the underderey areas with the lighter shade and let it dry. Then smooth the second shade onto the entire face. So as not to disturb the undercoat, blend the area with the gentlest taps. Presto, you can forget the problem and no one will guess you ever had it.

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. accentuated the puffiness, even though I applied my tinted foundation over the white. Please help me to solve this predicament.

The Answer: The problem is not uncommon and it can be camouflaged. But first you must understand a basic principle of camouflage. A coating of white on anything, from the lids of the eyes to the walls of a room, gives the illusion of increased dimensions, simply because it reflects light. To douse the light, you would have to shade it with a fairly deep, dense color.

Thus, in the case of dark puffs, a white cosmetic is useless. For unless it were blanketed with a near-brown foundation, the puffs would appear larger than life. The use of a dark foundation would only make a nightshade of the region.

Two tinted foundations are the best solution. One should be just a bit lighter than the skin tone of your face. It may be a cream or cake, but it must supply better than adequate coverage. The second shade should match your

15 Track Records Fall in Skating Races at Waupaca

Cold Wind, Rough Ice Fail to Slow State's Top Contestants

BY DICK McDANIEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA—A cold wind and rough ice failed to deter Wisconsin's top ice skating speedsters Sunday afternoon when 15 local track records were bettered in the state outdoor championship races on Shadow Lake.

Skaters were competing for points needed to make them eligible for the annual national championships later this year in St. Paul, Minn.

West Allis skating club retained its state championship by collecting 104 points. Superior and Madison tied for second, with 51 points and Waupaca was fourth with 34 points. Other clubs and their total points were: Whitefish Bay, 24; Oconomowoc, 22; Waukesha, 17, and Fond du Lac, 9.

Mrs. William (Mary Novak) Sand, Eau Claire, who skates with the Waupaca Club, was top point winner with 20 points in the senior women's division. She was the only entry in the division and, racing alone, she broke the track record in the 440 and added new records in the 880 and three-fourth mile.

Other Winners
Other grand slam winners were Pete Cefalu, West Allis, junior boys; Andrea Melin, Superior, junior girls; and Beth Jassoy, White Fish Bay. They won first place in all three of their events. Only the senior division has four events.

In addition to the grand slam winners, the skaters who won "best of class" trophies were Vern Kappes, West Allis, senior men; Greg St. Ange, Superior, intermediate boys; Dave Meier, West Allis, juvenile boys; Peter Mueller, Madison, midget boys; Paul Rass, West Allis, pony boys; Linda Schubert, West Allis, intermediate girls; Flora Holwie, Oconomowoc, juvenile girls, and Mary Mittelstadt, Madison, pony girls.

Mueller, who claimed the best of class in the midget boys, was competing earlier this year in the younger age group, pony boys. However, last week he competed in the midget division in Milwaukee and is no longer eligible for the pony division, but went on to win honors in the older midget class.

Senior Men
Kappes scored 18 out of a possible 20 points in the highly-competitive senior men's division. He opened with a second in the 220 and followed with firsts in the 440, 880 and one-mile events. He bettered the old record in the 220.

Andrea Melin, Superior, broke all three records in the junior

Two Twin Cities Residents Make Eight-Mile Hike Across Winnebago

BY HAZEL THIEL

FARO SPRINGS—If anyone mentions walking distances on ice to Jerry Wiesman, 314½ Racine St., Menasha, and William Christian, 1004 Main St., Neenah, they'll take it in stride.

The stalwart pair has had experience—about eight miles of it walking across Lake Winnebago Saturday, here from Neenah on the east shore.

Christian, getting his first taste of Wisconsin's wintery bite, is a native of Smyrna, Ga. Wiesman, spending his second winter here, is from Houston, Tex.

The jovial pair talked about testing their stamina by walking across the lake last Monday. Fellow workers in the Allstate Engineering Department at Kimberly-Clark Corp. overheard their boast. J. P. Fenton and Al Gilmore put it to a dare Saturday.

Takes 2 Hours
In spite of the fierce weather, the two Southerners took off from Wisconsin Street, Neenah, at 10:30 a.m. and arrived at their destination, Faro Springs Resort, at 1:30 p.m.

Dressed for an Arctic expedition, they carried no packs. Their only gear was a compass. Across the lake, the only moving thing they saw was a leaf. Near Faro Springs, two groups of ice fishermen offered them rides to shore, but they declined. "We wanted to walk it all the way over," Christian said.

At the resort, Christian's wife,

Wiesman's girl friend and fellow workers all were waiting for the hikers.

Eleanore Niemitz of Faro proprietor, Earl, served coffee and hamburgers and brought out a washtub to soak four tired, cold feet.

When asked if they'll do it again, both say, "Sure would like to try, but give us a little time to rest up."

At Principal's Home

Youths Jailed for Throwing Beer Cans

Two Kaukauna High School students who admitted they threw two beer cans through the window of the school principal's home because they were seeking "revenge" were sentenced to 30 days each in the Outagamie County jail Friday.

No Airport Meeting Before Aeronautics Boards Decision

Winnebago Awaits CAB Ruling Before Calling on Outagamie

OSHKOSH—Winnebago County expanded, according to the engineering survey made by Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff. "We are satisfied with the result of our survey that we have been right all the time and that the port is not unsafe nor potentially obsolete as some have claimed."

That is, unless the Winnebago Board decides otherwise at its Jan. 21 meeting.

The decision to wait for CAB action was made by committee members at a meeting Friday night.

The committee may meet again during the coming week with Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) and State Aeronautics Commission personnel. No definite date has been set and the committee is awaiting word from those agencies as to when they will be able to meet.

Outagamie Agreeable

The letter from Alvin Fulcer, Outagamie County Board chairman, was read in which he indicated the county was agreeable to a meeting if the Winnebago County Board wanted one.

Supv. E. G. Steinhilber, Oshkosh, said the Winnebago County port is safe and adequate for the immediate future and can be expanded, according to the engineering survey made by Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff. "We are satisfied with the result of our survey that we have been right all the time and that the port is not unsafe nor potentially obsolete as some have claimed."

"Where we go depends on the result of the CAB. We will follow what the engineers recommend," he said.

Supv. Alvin Staffeld, Neenah, aviation committee chairman, replied, "If you are definitely set against a get-together, let's have it understood. It would be more economical to operate from a combined airport," referring to the statement in the engineering survey.

Suggest Meeting

The engineering survey also suggested before taking on any expansion of the Winnebago County airport, the two counties meet to discuss the feasibility of a joint airport.

Supv. Steinhilber said Winnebago County airport has been successful, as shown in the increases in passenger traffic, air mail, air express and air freight.

Supv. Staffeld said the committee should think of the future and not of just today. Outagamie County certainly will take a lot of business from some part of the county, he argued.

"Do you think they will be certified for air travel?" Supv. Steinhilber asked. "They will certify either one or the other. If, after all this monkey business, (referring to the hearings), they certify Outagamie county, then it is just that — monkey business. They (Outagamie County) say they are building a general aviation airport. We will have the mail, freight and passenger service."

"Why Worry?"
"The same ones who might move there are the ones who demanded safety devices we have now. Why should we worry," Steinhilber said. "We have the devices and they will not have them for years," referring to the flight control tower and instrument landing system runway.

"They have spent $1.5 million for a general aviation airport. They have let the contracts and can not get out of them. When the CAB report comes, that will guide us for the future," he indicated.

"I think it could be closed better if we got together with them," Staffeld said.

Going Ahead

Supv. Steinhilber said Green Bay was going ahead with its development and that he thought the committee should "sit and wait until the CAB decision."

"My ears have been ringing with suggestions from the engineers and federal people of one airport for the area," Staffeld said.

"They have an aggressive bunch of people who are pushing for an airport," Steinhilber said. "Maybe we would be in that position if the situation was reversed." He said he still thought the committee should wait for the CAB hearing decision before meeting with Outagamie County.

City Credit Exchange Members Hear City Relief Officer Ehrlicke

Appleton Credit Exchange members heard Merton Ehrlicke, city welfare officer, last week at the Conway Hotel speak on major causes for welfare assistance.

Desertion, divorce, financial problems, unemployment and physical and mental illness were named by Ehrlicke as major causes of relief cases. Other factors are alcoholism, poor work records, limited education and early marriages.

Concern for protection of merchants against poor credit risks which might originate with relief case persons was related by Ehrlicke to the department's concern for community interests and its taxpayers.

Eli Jandrin, chairman, announced the state convention of the Retail Credit Association will be held April 25 in Appleton. Ken Corbett, chamber of commerce secretary, outlined the convention program and arrangements.

Green Bay Honors

Lawrence Senior Wins Symphony Competition

GREEN BAY — Miss Laurie Ann Fyvie, Manitowish, Mich., a senior at the Lawrence College Conservatory of Music, won the Green Bay Symphony Orchestra's fifth annual young artists competition Saturday afternoon at West High auditorium.

Selected as an alternate after a judging so close both were asked to perform a second time, was the symphony's own Peg Eggert, 17-year-old Shawano clarinetist.

Miss Fyvie won a $100 U. S. savings bond and a guest artist spot with the orchestra at its March concert.

If she is unable to appear, Miss Eggert will replace her. The 22-year-old Lawrence senior won out over a field of five contestants in the symphony's first competition for strings and woodwinds. Previous contestants had been confined to vocalists and pianists.

Two Violinists
Also taking part were two violinists and a flute player. The violinists were Barbara Ellis, Green Bay, and Elizabeth Zethmayer, LaGrange, Ill., also from Lawrence College. The flutist was Jane Hinkley, 17, Green Bay.

Miss Fyvie captured top honors for her performance of the first two movements of the Mozart Bassoon Concerto. Miss Eggert offered Debussy's First Rhapsody for clarinet and piano.

The winner is in her final year at Lawrence, where she occupies first bassoon chair in both the college orchestra and band, as well as playing in two woodwind quintets. She has spent eight summers at the National Music Camp, Interloche, Mich., where she majored in clarinet, bassoon and ballet.

Third from Lawrence
Miss Fyvie is the third Lawrence student to capture the competition in five years. Previous winners, both vocalists, were Miss Eva Tamulenas, Racine, in 1961 and Miss Sandra McKearin, Waterbury, Conn., last year.

Although only 17, Miss Eggert has been a member of the symphony for several years and soloed with the ensemble last season. She also comes from a Sawano family long associated with music.

Her mother plays cello with the symphony and her older sister, Judy, was a bassoonist for three years prior to entering college.

A panel of players from the symphony acted as judges. They were Grace Feld, Jane Lange, Lucy Blahnik, Eli Dryver and Phil Whiteman.

Spending Panel May Urge Changes

Panel Reports Indicate Outlay Exceeding State Capacity to Pay

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON—A commission of citizens assigned to scrutinize causes and consequences of inflation in Wisconsin public spending has shown a deliberate, but cautious attitude in its first report to the Legislature.

A series of sub-committee reports submitted as a progress account for the "Committee of 25" headed by Fred Trowbridge, Green Bay, contains some broad hints the group ultimately will urge broad-scale modifications of purposes and methods of state and local government spending.

The progress report has been filed with the Legislative Council. A complete report, with conclusions and recommendations, will be submitted to the 1965 legislature which convenes next January and which according to all signs again will confront a financial dilemma more severe than those which produced crises in the capitol in the last two legislative sessions.

Examine Services
Subcommittees on education and public health and welfare services said they have worked during the last six months on examinations of the scope of those services and reasons for exploding costs, and have not yet arrived at explicit recommendations for legislative policy changes.

But a subcommittee on fiscal policies, while also withholding specific proposals and recommendations, pointed to some findings that may foretell a final report with strongly conservative implications.

The subcommittee found: —State and local government costs are rising faster than capacity to pay as capacity is measured by personal income or true property values.

—While state government spending is a problem that has had plentiful public attention, local government expenditure is of equal importance.

—Present state aid formulas not always are "compatible with the total need of government and its total cost," and "incentives to economical spending are sometimes missing or even operating in reverse."

—State laws have tended to build into formulas and practices increases in costs that "almost automatically cause them to grow beyond capacity to pay."

—The state building program tends to encourage automatic increases in funds available for expenditure "without adequate legislative scrutiny."

—State construction "often includes unnecessary luxuries at a time when their extra cost could be used to provide other badly needed facilities."

—Public debt and debt of public corporations is rising out of "all proportion to population, property values and personal income."

Such preliminary observations may show the committee ultimately will provide some comfort for fiscal conservatives who sponsored the legislation for the expenditure study, even if it does not produce a method for achieving the spending plateau that some worried legislators talked about last year.

The study was a Republican response to the long and difficult stalemate with the Democratic state administration last year on the size of the state budget, on one hand, and methods to be used to provide new revenues to cover expenditure expansion, on the other.

That its deliberations and conclusions will be closely involved in public discussions during the new state political campaign was shown here when Warren Knowles, Republican candidate for governor and a champion of conservative fiscal policies, publicly referred to the commission as the "white hope commission."

State Missed By Snowstorm, Not by Cold

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It doesn't happen too often, but Wisconsin escaped a severe snowstorm which hit the lower Middle West and the East. But there was no escaping the cold blasts moving in from the north.

Strong winds raked the state Sunday and there were scattered snow flurries near Lake Michigan. But the state was lucky to get off that easy. Huge snow drifts were reported in central Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, piled up by 50 miles per hour winds.

The winds in Wisconsin Sunday were mostly north to northeast and quite strong over the southeastern quarter for the entire day. In the Milwaukee area winds averaged 26 miles per hour with gusts up to 40 miles per hour. The winds shifted to north-northwest early this morning and the velocity dropped to 15 to 20 miles per hour.

Snow was reported at Green Bay, Madison, Milwaukee, Beloit - Rockford, Lone Rock and Superior - Duluth but amounts were negligible.

Temperatures were below normal over the state Sunday and Sunday night, with a high of 25 degrees at Racine. The lowest temperature in the state during the night was 19 below zero at Hurley-Ironwood.

Other lows included: Park Falls 17 below, Eau Claire 16 below, Wausau 10 below, LaCrosse 8 below, Lone Rock and Superior-Duluth 1 below, Madison and Green Bay 3, Beloit - Rockford 12, Burlington 13, Milwaukee Airport 15, Racine 18.

Gen. J. Beschta, 303 S. Mason St., was incorrectly identified in Sunday's Post-Crescent. His picture appeared as part of a feature article on two veteran barbers — Beschta and William Roock. Roock's name appeared under Beschta's picture.

Records Fall In Waupaca Skating Races

The windy, snowy weather since Thursday blocked efforts by the Waupaca park department and fire department to give the visiting skaters a fresh layer of ice. Plans were made to flood the track, but the blowing snow made this impossible.

West Allis Losing
Veteran skate fans reported West Allis is losing its domination of the state skating honors. They said West Allis skaters during the previous years collected more points than they did this year, due to increasing numbers of good skaters, being developed by other clubs.

Mark Romeis, a midget boy, was the only Waupaca club skater to win a first place in competition. He won the 220. He placed second in the 440 to add eight points to the Waupaca count.

Arlys Jenkins, another Waupaca skater scored five points on a second in the 880 and a third in the 440. Karen Jenkins placed fourth in the three-fourth mile and Charles Kagen, Appleton, a member of the Waupaca club, placed fourth in the pony event.

Doctor Urges End To Phony Claims

'Whiplash' Can be Serious or Faked, Physicians Are Told

NEENAH — Doctors and attorneys have a common responsibility not to permit malingering or to compensate unsubstantiated complaints in "whiplash" injury suits, William F. Kennedy, M.D. Thursday told a dinner meeting of the Winnebago Medical Society at the Valley Inn.

While there may be less outward signs of injury resulting from "whiplash" accidents, there are definite symptoms of the passenger, who is unaware of the impending crash, is propelled forward while the head remains momentarily stationary, the doctor explained.

Dr. Kennedy said the extent of resulting injury depends upon the rate of speed with which the patient is propelled.

"Whiplash is a description of an anatomical or pathological change," Dr. Kennedy said. A common linguistic fallacy indicates that the term "whiplash" is a description of an injury. However, it only indicates the manner in which the injury is inflicted.

The injury commonly occurs to passengers in a vehicle when the vehicle is struck from behind by another car. The body of the passenger, who is unaware of the impending crash, is propelled forward while the head remains momentarily stationary, the doctor explained.

Dr. Kennedy said the extent of resulting injury depends upon the rate of speed with which the patient is propelled.

"The injury can be a torn muscle or total muscle avulsion (separation)," he said.

He classified the injury from whiplash accidents as 1) malingering; 2) definite injury to the patient, resulting from neck strain, but not serious; and 3) serious injury which may remain permanent.

Some seriously injured develop neurosis and anxiety from their lack of response to treatment and a fear of the future, he said. "Those who suffer from severe injury can be taught to live within the bounds of their pain." These cases are infrequent, he explained.

Out of 7,000 rear-end collisions in Toronto, Ont., during 1962, only 1,000 personal injury suits were filed, he said.

"We can assume that there was neck strain in all of the accidents," he said, "which indicates that most people recover from the injury."

The less seriously injured in whiplash accidents, who experience pain, respond to treatment and can expect full recovery, according to Dr. Kennedy. This is the class with the majority of legitimate whiplash caused injuries.

However, he said, that there

Residential remodeling permits numbered 16 and cost was estimated at $17,150 during 1963 while 34 remodeling permits were issued during 1962, work cost estimated at $27,600. Total residential construction during 1963 was set at $477,950.

Commercial Building

Eight permits were issued for commercial construction and remodeling in 1962 at a cost of $67,300 compared to five permits costing $125,400 in 1963.

Largest single commercial construction project during the year was Larry's Piggly Wiggly supermarket, at a construction cost of $65,000. An additional $800 permit was issued for a sign for the new store.

A building in the heart of the community housing a 5 cents to $1 store and an insurance office was constructed at a cost of $35,000 by Robert Hartjes. An addition to the telephone exchange building cost $21,000 and a new store front at Hane-graaf's grocery cost $9,500.

KAUKAUNA SAVINGS

savers and homeowners look ahead...get ahead

THE FIGURES HERE tell a story of growth, but there's another story behind that story. It's all about how people with an eye toward the future work in partnership to make plans become realities.

Many of those plans call for safe, profitable saving—the kind that ordinary people with ordinary incomes can do. Small amounts put away regularly for generous earnings and compounded growth. Or larger amounts invested in one lump sum for extra income and a fluctuation-free principal. Here savers find the profit, safety, and convenience they want in a savings program.

People with home-owning plans get low-cost, practical help here, too! Our home financing programs, made possible by savings funds, enable even families of modest means to enjoy the pleasures and security of home ownership. This worthwhile use of savings dollars generates earnings for savers... creates a better community for all of us.

If you're looking ahead to financial progress and home ownership, there's a place in our story for you. Why not stop in soon and get in on the happy ending?

Dangerous Malady Likely To Remain Rare Disease

BY DENNIS BLAKESLEE — Though extremely deadly, chances are slim indeed that botulism shall ever become more than one of man's rarest maladies, two University of Wisconsin scientists at Madison explain.

The very nature of the microbe that causes botulism dooms it to infrequent growth. And only when the bacteria grow can they produce the minute amounts of lethal toxin that kills so easily, according to Drs. Edwin M. Foster and Elizabeth McCoy, professors of bacteriology.

The five known types of botulism bacteria belong to a group of organisms called anaerobic by scientists; they cannot grow in the presence of oxygen. Other factors such as low temperature—refrigeration, for example—also prohibit the bacteria from growing.

Grow Shells

The organisms, however, can live through adverse conditions in the form of spores, which they become by secreting hard, protective shells about themselves, the scientists relate. This sporulation though, seems to be a part of the bacteria's normal life cycle, regardless of good or bad growing conditions, they continue.

Once having transformed themselves into spores, the bacteria appear to lie dormant until suitable growing conditions, once again occur. For food to become poisonous, three factors must be satisfied:

First, of course, the spores must be present. Second, the food must contain the proper nutrients to be suitable for their germination, growth and toxin formation. Lastly, the temperature must be high enough to permit growth. Prof. Foster points out.

Paralyzing Effect

The toxin itself, the scientists continue, is a large protein that, unlike most all others, resists digestion by a human or an animal, thus passing unchanged from the digestive tract. Once in the bloodstream, the protein migrates to the central nervous system where it has a quick, paralyzing effect on nerve tissue.

Death from botulism poisoning is generally a consequence of the toxin's attack on nerve centers that control breathing, causing suffocation or strangulation.

The ultimate source of the botulism bacteria is the soil, the bacteriologists say. In the ground, the organisms can last for years as spores, patiently waiting for favorable growing conditions.

Occasionally, the scientists go on, the bacteria are picked up on the surface of vegetation. In such an environment, however, the organisms continue to exist as spores forming no toxin, remaining quite harmless.

When the growing vegetation is eaten by animals or by humans, as in a salad perhaps, the bacteria stay spores, producing no ill effects.

Prof. McCoy cites compelling evidence that this is so: Botulism spores can be isolated from the livers of healthy, wild ducks.

Inside animal bodies, she explains, the bacteria seem unable to shuck their hard coats and begin growing, possibly due to the oxygen-rich blood that bathes all cells. Hence, to be poisoned, an animal or a human must eat the preformed toxin.

This limits human poisoning to food that can support bacterial growth, preserved foods, as a rule, that have not been treated with sufficient heat.

Killing Heat

The spores are highly resistant to heat but the temperatures specified for commercial and home canning are designed to be sufficient to destroy them. The toxin, like any protein, is easily broken down by heat.

"Boiling, or boiling temperatures, for a few minutes is sufficient to destroy the toxin. The spores may live through this, however," Prof. Foster states.

But even if spores do remain alive, food is safe if eaten immediately after heating. It's canned that the danger comes. Inside an airtight can the spores find an ideal home in which to grow — the food can become poisonous.

The most common source of botulism is improperly home-preserved vegetables, the professors point out.

First Record

Botulism was first recorded as a disease in 1735, in Germany. The poisoning at that time appeared to be associated with sausage and the disease was named botulism from the Latin word for sausage, botulus.

Not until 1895, though, was the organism discovered and described as occurring in ham and pork. It was called type A.

Thirty years later a second type, named B, was found in California soil. Since then it has been found in soils all over the world. Types A and B both are often associated with vegetables and fruits.

In subsequent years types C and D were discovered.

Wild Ducks

Type C was found occurring in birds and indeed has created havoc in populations of wild ducks at times. "No human case of type C has yet been authentically reported," Prof. McCoy says, adding it appears unlikely that this type is dangerous to humans.

Type D was found connected with diseases of grazing animals—horses, cattle, sheep, etc. It has been called forage poisoning for animals pick it up by feeding on decomposed vegetation that often contains the growing bacteria. This type, like C, also appears to be unable to afflict humans.

The last type found to date, type E, was discovered in salt-water fish and poisoning occurs most frequently in countries where a lot of preserved fish is consumed. It wasn't until 1951 that scientists found that type E could also come from freshwater fish.

The number of botulism cases over the world each year is exceedingly few. The largest outbreak ever recorded was in Russia in 1933. Then 230 cases, with 94 deaths, resulted from type A toxin contained in stuffed eggplant.

On the average, less than a dozen cases of botulism are reported in the United States each year. In fact, years sometimes go by with no cases being reported.

Lawrence Says

Blunt Speeches Are Needed on Delicate Issues

Negroes Should Stop Following Demagogues' Lead

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Sometimes a prominent man known in his own city or state makes a speech that deserves the attention of the whole country — especially when it concerns what has been called the social "revolution" in America.

Richardson Lawrence, a former mayor of the city of Philadelphia who was the unsuccessful Democratic nominee for the governorship of Pennsylvania in the 1962 election, is unquestionably an ardent advocate of "civil rights." Yet if the same things which he has just said had been spoken by Governors Barnett of Mississippi, Wallace of Alabama or Faubus of Arkansas, there would have been a tirade of criticism leveled in their direction, and they would have been called "racists" and enemies of the Negro.

Mr. Dilworth, however, happened to be inspired to talk plainly and bluntly on delicate issues that have rocked the peace of his city. He had prepared the other day a speech on transportation for a seminar of 300 business executives of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Philadelphia. He suddenly asked for more time and, in an impromptu manner, supplemented his remarks. He declared that the time has come for the Negro to stop following "demagogue" leaders.

Recent Furor

Mr. Dilworth added that he believed the furor recently over the use of "blackface" in the annual "Numbers Parade" in Philadelphia was unfortunate and that it "set the Negro community back ten years." He added: "It's these inconsequential things that cause the whites to be set against the blacks."

Mr. Dilworth pointed out that Negroes are being left to "swelter" in cities around which the suburbs are drawing a noose. He continued:

"I recently went on a nine-square-block tour of an area comprised of mostly low-income Negro groups that took a whole day."

"When we wanted to question them, we couldn't find a sober man or woman to talk to. They just have no hope. That's the kind of rot that is going to spread if we don't get employment and education for those people. We cannot support 20 per cent of the Negroes in the north on relief and hope to survive."

Some Demagogues

"And the time has come for the Negro to stop feeling so damned sorry for himself. Some of their leaders are demagogues . . . but they've got to learn to help themselves, and not take an attitude that just because they are a minority they can get nowhere here."

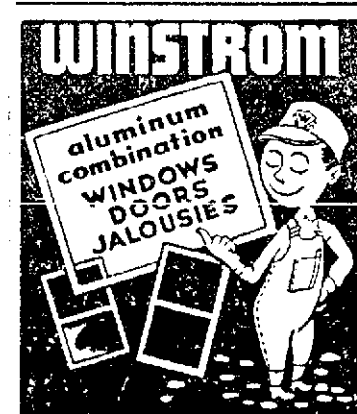

"That's just not true. Look at the Irish and Italians of years past. One of them even went on to become president of the United States. They (the Negroes) have got to get some of the same kind of spirit that these people had."

"They get the feeling they can't win, and they can't. There are six whites to every black. They just can't win unless something is done on a basis of courage and human intelligence."

What Mr. Dilworth said is not surprising. The same point of view has been expressed before in local communities by conscientious persons who really would like to help solve the racial problems. But the sensitivity about giving advice to the Negroes has risen to the point where even prominent Negroes themselves are reluctant to speak out because they are promptly attacked by Negro leaders in the demagogic category.

street demonstrations, moreover, has not been of as much assistance to their cause as some of the Negro leaders had hoped. Too often these demonstrations have produced a bitterness between Negroes and whites which did not prevail before. Incitement to violence has occurred. It's true that race relations have long been unsatisfactory from the Negroes' viewpoint, but it will be recalled that Negro leaders, trained in the law and anxious to assert constitutional rights, persisted for many years in their legal battle and resorted solely to methods of legal procedure.

Thus, the biggest victory won in 100 years by the Negroes was the "desegregation" decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in May 1954. There were no public demonstrations in and around Washington before that time, nor were there similar manifestations anywhere else. The court case was won solely by the arguments advanced by the lawyers, including Negro attorneys, through the lower courts and finally in the Supreme Court itself.

The moral in all this is simply that more progress can be made by the use of the voice of reason, at the conference table in the local communities and by resort to legal procedures than can be achieved by demonstrations. Additional improvement will come in racial relations in exactly what former Mayor Dilworth pointed out in his recent address.

Panamanian Mess Inherited By Johnson

Causes for Riots
Go All the Way Back to 1903

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson inherited a Panamanian mess older than he is. It starts with President Theodore Roosevelt who contemptuously called Latin Americans "dagos."

Immediate cause of the Canal Zone riots in which more than two dozen Americans and Panamanians have been killed was a dispute over placing the Panamanian flag beside the American flag in the zone.

Such killings for such a reason may look like idiocy 100 years from now if by then the world is more civilized and flag placing is considered a job for landscape gardeners.

But here the causes run deep and all the way back to 1903. Cupidity, stupidity, nationalism and American imperialism. In 1903 Panama, then part of Colombia, revolted and set up its own government.

Canal Idea
The idea of digging a canal across Panama from the Atlantic to the Pacific was at least 300 years old. After the Spanish-American War there was a demand for it in this country. Roosevelt tried to arrange it with Colombia.

He didn't like the terms. He called the Colombians apes in this country, but not by Roosevelt publicly, the people in the province of Panama were encouraged to revolt. They did, and got instant American military help.

Later Roosevelt came out from behind the bushes: "I took Panama." He quickly recognized the new republic and just as quickly made a deal with it to build a canal.

The revolt started Nov. 3, 1903; this government recognized the Republic of Panama on the 6th; and a treaty on the canal was concluded on the 18th.

Although the canal was not finished until 1914, long after Roosevelt was out of office, one of his biographers said his maneuvering left a "U.S. legacy of ill will" in Latin America "where the good neighbor policies of later presidents have failed to this day to dissipate it entirely."

Perpetual Use
The treaty granted the United States "in perpetuity the use, occupation and control of the zone of land (10 miles wide) from Atlantic to Pacific."

In time "perpetuity" became a cancer to Panamanians. How come the United States could move in on Latin American countries like this? Roosevelt explained it in what is called his corollary to the Monroe Doctrine.

He altered that doctrine, which denied European countries the right to butt in on Latin American affairs, to a new doctrine giving this country the right to butt in. And it did for years.

Latin Americans are still wary, as they have shown. A historian of Latin America, Hubert Herring, called the Panama of those early days a disorderly house run by an oligarchy. It's still run by an oligarchy, a few powerful white families who have warred among themselves.

More Irritations
In the years since 1903 irritations have built up. The Panamanians wanted more than the $2 million they get yearly from the canal; they complained against discrimination in the pay they got working in the Canal Zone, where 36,000 Americans live, and with justice because their pay was raised.

They have wanted more say over operation of the canal. They demanded various concessions, and the United States yielded on many. It has also probably been politically smart for the Panamanian officials to badger the United States.

President Roberto Chiari, who broke off relations with this country after the riots began last week, has been called definitely unfriendly to the United States.

While the imperialism and nationalism of Theodore Roosevelt America and people everywhere showed bitter seeds, the Panamanians, like the rest of Latin-nationalistic in turn

Your Money's Worth

Tax Reduction Does Not Apply for 1964

BY SYLVIA PORTER
(In collaboration with the Research Institute of America)
As you fill out your 1963 tax return, pay no attention to the massive tax reduction bill on which Congress is working right now. When this bill becomes law, it will apply, with rare exceptions, to 1964 and later, but NOT to 1963.

Even though we're now into 1964, you're preparing your 1963 tax return and that return is controlled by the law as it was in 1963, not as it will be in 1964. The tax changes to be voted this year will affect your 1964 return—and that return you won't file until 1965.

But while you shut out your mind all you have been reading about lower tax rates and other tax changes to apply to 1964 and on, you must ignore significant developments in 1963 which will affect the income and deductions you show on your 1963 return. In this series of seven columns, I'll report the most important 1963 decisions, cases and Treasury rulings which will help you fill out your 1963 return properly and hold your tax to the legal minimum.

As far as the 1963 return itself is concerned, it has little difference in content from the 1962 return—except for some major changes for businessmen to be explained in a later column.

For the vast majority of us, the most interesting difference will not be on the return itself but rather in the flood of information statements we will receive from banks, savings organizations, corporations, etc., which paid us interest or dividends of $10 or more in 1963.

Do not attach any of these to your 1963 return as you do with one copy of the W-2 wage statement from your employer. The dividend and interest statements are strictly for your information—to tell you the specific amounts the banks, corporations, brokerage houses, etc., reported to the Treasury that they paid you.

I'm positive there will be many discrepancies between these statements and the amount your records show you received. If you find a discrepancy, be ready to prove, if necessary, with your own deposit slips and other records what you claim to be the correct amounts of your dividends and interest.

To give you a key tax guide at the start, here is a list of the average deductions taken by persons in different tax brackets for contributions, interest, taxes and medical expenses. As you compare them with your own deductions, keep these two points in mind:

If you are claiming deductions well above the averages, the chances that your return will be examined and questioned will be increased simply by the fact that you stand out. Be prepared with ample proof to back your claims.

If you are claiming deductions well below the averages, presumably you are spending less than other taxpayers in your bracket. Or perhaps you are overlooking some deductions which this series will help you remember.

Your Adjust	Contrib	Inf'est	Taxes	Medical
$5,000-$6,000	$202	$138	$371	$302
$6,000-$7,000	224	407	374	311
$7,000-$8,000	256	462	453	321
$8,000-$9,000	278	512	486	331
$9,000-$10,000	311	554	544	349
$10,000-$15,000	385	630	670	453
$15,000-$20,000	562	785	765	587
$20,000-$25,000	713	970	1,244	739
$25,000-$50,000	1,182	1,295	1,855	1,273
$50,000	2,522	2,513	3,599	1,742

* Line 9, Page 1, Form 1040

You are, however, not entitled to deduct the average figures just because they are averages. You can deduct only what you actually spent for these expenses.

The Treasury generally is willing to accept your state sales tax deduction without further proof if your deduction is no larger than the estimate on its own official list of estimated sales tax deductions (this list will be in a later column). It views the above average differently—but they obviously are important guides for you.

Proxmire Says LBJ 'At Home' As Executive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire D-Wis., said Sunday that President Johnson was an effective leader while he was in the Senate but his real place is in the executive branch. "He's a real take charge, executive operator," Proxmire said during a television interview in which he discussed his sharp disagreement with Johnson while the latter was Senate Democratic leader.

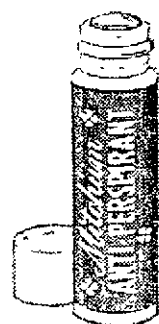

Johnson was an effective leader in the Senate, Proxmire said, but he didn't consult with other senators— "No caucus, no conference, no way in which all the senators could together decide what the policy should be." Proxmire said the "LBJ brand was on everything," in the Senate while Johnson was the party leader there. "But I always said, I said then and I say now, that the place of Lyndon Johnson is in the executive branch."

More Than Flags Involved in Panama

It is difficult to conceive that what started out as a fist fight among a few students blossomed last week into disorders in which both American soldiers and Panamanians were killed in the Canal Zone and which has led to the breaking of diplomatic relations by Panama with the United States. Panamanian President Chari has denounced what he calls American aggression and has filed a complaint with the Organization of American States demanding an immediate investigation.

But the emotional battles over the flying of American and Panamanian flags in the Canal Zone have been breeding ill will for a number of years. In this case it is more than a matter of flags as such, for the flags represent national honor as far as both sides are concerned. And underlying the whole problem is a constantly increasing agitation by Panama for more sovereignty over the Canal Zone and more revenue from the canal itself.

Back in 1963 the United States was granted use of the canal zone in perpetuity by the new Republic of Panama. But Panama retained titular sovereignty.

After World War II, refusal by the United States to allow the flag of Panama to be flown in the zone became a target for Panamanian nationalists. They also complained that U. S. employees of the canal zone company got preferential treatment over natives. There were a number of riots over the flag issue in the late 1950's and six Panamanians were killed in an incident in 1959.

In 1960 President Eisenhower ordered the Panamanian flag flown in a park in the zone as evidence of the republic's titular sovereignty. U. S. residents were angered, however, fearing further extension of Panama's influence in the zone.

In early 1963 an agreement was reached that U. S. and Panamanian flags would be flown jointly at 16 specified locations. And last week the governor, Maj. Gen. Fleming, issued an order effective Dec. 31 designating these locations. It also provided that no flags would be flown outside schools in the zone.

Last Friday American students at one of the schools ran up the American flag. Panamanian students crossed the border and attempted to fly theirs on the same pole. Fist fights broke out. The Panamanians claimed their flag had been defiled. They retreated, but later angry demonstrators, mostly young people, returned and started setting cars on fire and smashing windows and street lights.

The riot was soon out of hand. Army troops turned out to help canal zone police. Shots were exchanged from both sides.

Now the problem is to get tempers cooled off to the point where the matter can be considered at the diplomatic level.

The United States has one obvious job to do. The American residents of the zone must be convinced that they have to abide by agreements entered into by their government. They must be educated to act as good will ambassadors of this country in a foreign land.

The Panamanian demands for more influence in the zone and more revenue from the canal is another matter. The canal itself is fast becoming obsolete in any case, and these demands are best discussed in the context of what the United States is going to do about a new canal.

Puzzle in Saigon

It begins to look more and more as if the United States bought a poor piece of business when some representatives actively encouraged the overthrow if not the actual murder of President Diem in Viet Nam. And now we must wonder where in this troubled world the Saigon correspondents have gone. There are very few reports coming from Viet Nam but what we do hear is hardly cause for cheers.

So far we don't know whether the United States decided Diem would have to go because he wasn't running a democracy, wasn't winning the war against the Viet Cong or because the alleged religious persecution of Buddhists by a Roman Catholic regime politically embarrassed the government in Washington. But if our encouragement to get a new meaningful government in Saigon was for any of those reasons, our reputation for intrigue hasn't improved since the Bay of Pigs.

The present military junta in Viet Nam has set up a Council of Notables of civilians but it has set no dates for the free elections it promised when it seized power. The members of the junta seem confused as to what they do want. Five Buddhists have set themselves on fire but there were no American photographers around to get them on the front pages or maybe self-immolation is no longer news. The Buddhists have formed a national organization but it is reportedly hopelessly split among three factions; those who want to join North Viet Nam in a "neutralist" state, those who are anti-Communist and those somewhere in between.

The Viet Cong wisely took advantage of the confusion following the revolution and made clear military advances, particularly in the Mekong Delta area. Marguerite Higgins writes from Saigon that the students still demonstrate in the streets and the intellectuals bitterly criticize the junta, the war and each other.

Meanwhile there are some second thoughts being mentioned. C. L. Sulzberger, columnist for the New York Times, which gave a great deal of space and editorial comment critical of President Diem before the revolution, now wonders whether perhaps we should stop expecting instant democracy in new nations. "The very idea (of backing military regimes) strikes Americans as immoral because government by military dictator or junta is a far cry from democracy. But can valid democracy be installed in unstable and largely illiterate lands?"

There is a good amount of justification for the American confusion on all this. Our military men are in Viet Nam to defeat the invading and infiltrating Communists. With our own understanding of what constitutes liberty, it is hard for any of us to countenance even the petty tyrannies of some Asian leaders while we are helping them fight tyranny. It seems reasonable that one of the reasons the Viet Cong made headway among Vietnamese villagers was the remote aspect of the Diem regime. Military successes in such cases can be rendered useless if the people are won to communism because they see little or no choice.

But what Sulzberger is actually suggesting is that only strong leaders with authoritarian military habits can successfully repel Communists. Quite obviously we would rather give our aid to nations encouraging freedom and our own ideas of justice. But there is a big question as to whether the developing nations have the time or the opportunity for democracy with communism sneaking in the door. Unfortunately this is a fine argument for the new dictators that have sprung up enthusiastically in former colonial areas from Indonesia to Ghana.

The Vietnamese story remains confusing. Why do we tolerate the absolutism of Sukarno? Why are there fears expressed about Thailand because it has lost an authoritarian ruler? Why didn't the same criteria apply to Viet Nam? Before we send troops again we had better clarify our policies.

Rebel Plot in North Discovered

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Jan. 14, 1964.

It is reported that intelligence has reached the authorities of another plot to rescue Island (off State of Ohio) and rebel prisoners on Johnson's Lake their over to Canada, after doing what mischief possible on this side. The exact details of the information have not been divulged, but it is believed the leading features of the plot are as follows:

The are now making rapidly in the lake (Lake Erie) and if the present weather continues, there soon will be safe passage across the lake from Pelee, Canada, by way of Point Pelee Island and the American cluster of islands, to Danbury township (Ohio) on the Peninsula, closing in Sandusky Bay. From the mainland to Johnson's Island (Full Island) is only half a mile. The plan is to get a sufficient number of desperate men over from Canada, secrete them in the woods of Danbury township and signal the prisoners. At a concerted signal, a simultaneous attack will be made on the guards by the prisoners within the inclosures and their friends without.

If the movement is successful, the rebels will arm themselves, destroy the government establishment on the island, proceed to Sandusky and burn it down, seize everything they can carry off and then continue their work of destruction in Ohio, or make it straight for Canada across the ice. It is said that rebel sympathizers in Ohio have full intelligence of the proposed plot.

Old History Claims Shawano Got Name From Indian Chief

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I have before me a rather out of print book "Standard History of Waupaca County, Wisconsin," under the editorial supervision of John M. Ware. The Lewis Publishing Co., 1917, in regards to how SHAWANO Co. got its name. Maybe the Wisconsin State Historical Society stands to be corrected. I can only quote this book as follows:

"Tomah, who was the presiding chief over the Menominees in this section, was one of the most prominent Indians in the history of this section of the country. He did not hold the chieftainship by hereditary right, but was appointed to that position from his superior sagacity and wisdom. Tomah's father was a half-breed son of a French trader named Carron; Tomah's name being Thomas Carron, Tomah being the French for Thomas. His domain included about 230,000 acres, of which the present site of New London was included. He was born near the present location of Green Bay about 1752. His abilities and moderation were such that he acquired a commanding influence with his people. He was a tall, majestic Indian and by his contemporaries was always mentioned with respect.

"When Colonel Robert Dickson collected a large Indian force under the British flag in 1812 the able Chief Tomah used his great influence to prevail upon his people to remain neutral, so only a few of his young warriors joined the fortunes of the British. Tomah when in the council held up his hands and said: 'It is my boast that these hands are unstained with human blood.' But later in 1814 it is recorded that he aided in the repulse of the Americans from Mackinac. However, he greatly deplored this, for he afterwards expressed his regret at having done so and said he was going to tell them (the English) so and demand his discharge from them, that he was now done with them and would never again quit his Great Father. The President of the United States.

"Colonel John Shaw in a sketch of the pioneers and the Indian Chiefs of the northwest states that the Menominee Chief Tomah descended the river from Prairie du Chien to St. Louis in 1817 in company with him and says: 'He could speak some words in French and was quite companionable, frequently indulging in pleasantry and drollery. He was then quite advanced in years, but very active.' The Indian tribes around Tomah were afraid of him, although he never went to war with them. He died near Green Bay in July, 1818. Tomah was a brave and generous chief. His nobleness and generosity of character reflect real honor on the Indian race and on the Menominees especially.

"Tomah was practically the last great chief of the Menominee nation. In later years the tribe divided and had their Indian villages, over which a local chief presided.

"A son of Tomah, Mau-cau-tau-bee, was a chief of the Green Bay Menominees after the death of his father. This chief died in 1820.

"Two other of Tomah's sons were chiefs. Joseph Carron, who succeeded his father as head speaker, died in 1831. The other was Chief Glade, named for his uncle. He died in 1848. The latter had two sons, chiefs in 1857. One was Keshenah, born in 1829, for whom the present reservation is named. Another was Shawneon, or Silver, born in 1827. The city and county of Shawano are named for him."

I am wondering where the Wisconsin Historical Society got their information from?

Can't Trust Russians; Wheat Deal Isn't Right

Editor, Post-Crescent:

All of us at the University of Wisconsin were profoundly shocked when the madman of the left, Lee Harvey Oswald, seized the opportunity to spit the American ideal of electing their president and deciding whether he should succeed himself. Today John Fitzgerald Kennedy symbolizes not the politician who propounded the New Frontier which now is left for historians to record, but the brave young soldier who once risked death in shark-infested waters in defense of democracy and met death at the hands of a sniper in the practice of democracy.

The moratorium is over, and no less sorrowful, the new President and the nation will pick up the pace of partisan politics. It has been suggested by some that it would be a fitting memorial to pass the programs of the assassinated president. But since, as I have already suggested, we have placed the memory of him above partisan politics so that his name reminds us of democratic ideals of freedom and orderly succession, I believe we can best memorialize these ideals for freedom by meeting the challenges of our responsibility as free-thinking citizens in a country where political difference is not a crime, but a state of strength for democracy.

With this in mind, I ask the people around my home town of Neenah to watch the rising popularity of Senator Goldwater, who I propose has the rare combination of Harry Truman's rugged character, Teddy Roosevelt's determination and Thomas Jefferson's wisdom. We should not discount the possibility of Goldwater's candidacy or victory.

Just recently Goldwater challenged the wisdom of the President for proposing to extend a loan to Russia when we sell them our wheat. Now I don't think we can say Goldwater is ignorant to disprove of the wheat loan when we consider that the United States has trusted the honor of the Soviet Union before and the trust has been betrayed! I don't think Soviet honesty has improved any — they'll continue and betray to advance towards their goal of world conquest just as Hitler did with Chamberlain. I wonder if Chamberlain has been influencing the great halls of wisdom on Capitol Hill.

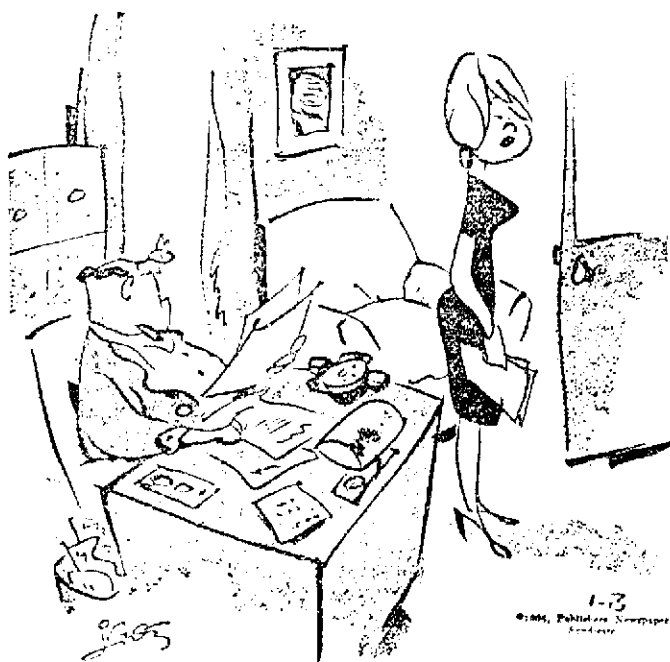

Historically has always been poor politics to aid the enemy and we are aiding the Russians since we are selling them our surplus wheat for one dollar per bushel less than any American can buy it.

So with all respect for our hero who recently died for democracy, I submit that we must face the facts and the future and should support Senator Goldwater when he suggests we can neither trust the Russians nor give them aid of any sort, because aiding a tyrant in effect discourages freedom and rebellion against tyranny.

State's Primary Often Avoided by Principal Candidates in Past

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—There are plain assets and probable liabilities in the favorite son device of arranging a closed primary for the Republican voters of Wisconsin as they choose national convention delegates in the April elections.

By the device of using the name of Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, the leader of the Wisconsin Republican delegation in Washington, as a "candidate" for the party's presidential nomination, the state Republican party has arranged that other and serious national candidates will detour Wisconsin and get their early exposure in any of a half dozen other primary election states.

Wyngaard

Thus there will be avoided, it is hoped, an expenditure of a considerable sum of local Republican money that can be more fruitfully invested in the fall campaign which will determine who will rule Wisconsin. Thus there can be prevented also the strong chance of permanent wounds in the organization that would be presented in the direct collision here of the liberals behind Rockefeller and the conservatives who want Goldwater.

THE OTHER VIEW

The risk in this strategem is one that was so quickly represented by the eager taunts of the Democrats and other anti-Republicans — asserting that the Republicans don't trust the people in the way that the presidential primary law contemplated.

This is a cynical trick to deprive the people of Wisconsin of the kind of pre-convention referendum on presidential contenders that their law, which has not been seriously suggested for repeal, ostensibly assures them, the complaints run. This is a scheme to permit the Republican wheelers and dealers to go to San Francisco to act on their own, rather than as agents of a constituency, according to these protests. Already there are the predictable "revelations" about agreements on how the Byrnes 30-man delegation will be split after it reaches the convention, and all of the angry disclaimers of the Republicans are not likely to do much to settle the doubts among those who are not counted among the party faithful.

Such reservations may gain some additional strength from the curiously drab and pallid way in which the Byrnes candidacy was announced the other day, after many months of speculation and front page reporting. The ostensible candidate didn't even come home to make his announcement. He turned over the chore to the chairman of the Republican party organization, who didn't choose to make much of the event. Most of the principal political writers of the state were not even notified of his plans to make the announcement. There was a cut and dried appearance about the whole affair that was unfortunate — in a state where political managers should have learned by now to respect the nearly even political alignment.

OFF-SET

Such factors might be more damaging to the Republican plan today except for the fact that no objective student is really impressed by the Wisconsin presidential primary idea.

Candidates have always entered the Wisconsin test or passed it by according to their own hard-headed conclusions about where the advantage lay. Just now, for example, it would be nothing less than a complete surprise to the Wisconsin Democrats who are so energetically baiting the Republicans if President Johnson should file for a preliminary popularity test in Wisconsin. Candidates in general have entered Wisconsin only when they had to do so, when they figured that their relatively weak candidacies needed a boost badly enough to make the risk of loss here worth the gamble. That was precisely how John Kennedy made the decision in 1960, and Robert A. Taft in 1952, to cite two relevant cases lately.

President Eisenhower didn't bother about the Wisconsin primary in 1952, and Adlai Stevenson, although chosen by the Democrats twice, ignored the Wisconsin vote which the Democrats now argue is a sacred tool of democracy.

With Children Around, Who Heads Family?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

"Look at it this way, dad," said my 8-year-old boy to me the week before Christmas. "If you get me that walkie-talkie set, you won't be making me happy — you'll be making the whole neighborhood happy. How could you pass up a chance like that?"

How could I, indeed? And I didn't. Parents fall easily for that kind of smooth talk, which children seem to learn as soon as they can toddle. Every child is a born walkie-talkie set, with antennae turned right in to the parent's soft spots and vulnerabilities.

Get a dog? No, sir. Well, maybe. We'll see. If you're good. Will you take care of it? Promise? O.K., for your birthday. And who walks the dog early in the morning, and late at night? One guess.

Turtles? Who needs turtles. All right, just two, and feed them yourselves. Mother doesn't have time to feed turtles. Who feeds the turtles? Ma-ma-ma.

Tropical fish? Too expensive. Big bowl, equipment, heating, fresh running water, lights, ye gods, even vitamin drops. What's going on?

A snake? Absolutely not. Not even in the basement. That's where we draw the line, little friend. I don't care if it's not poisonous. When you're married, buy yourself a python for all I care.

Harris

Hunting, fishing, and camping equipment. No, you can't have a Bowie knife — you'll be thrown out of school and put in the reformatory. A tent is too big for your room. No, you can't pitch it in the patio and sleep there on winter nights. A sleeping bag costs too much, and besides you'd be running back in the house in 10 minutes. Well, maybe a small pup tent in the playroom, and you can practice your fly-casting up there.

An ant colony? Are you out of your skull? Yes, I know it's "educational." Sir Isaac Newton, but if the dog ever cracks the plastic top of the colony, we'd have 2,000 ants running around the house. And, my son, have you ever tried to keep help in a house with 2,000 ants running around? Why, even your mother would move to a hotel.

I have a wonderful idea, son. How about an illuminated globe of the world? It doesn't move, doesn't bark, doesn't have to be taken out, fed, nursed, sweated, vitaminated, vetted, chained, muzzled or defanged. You've already got a globe? Have another. It's a big world.

Well, that was the week before Christmas. Things went from bad to worse, and I haven't even mentioned the parakeet. By God, one thing they won't ever get me to do is clean up a bird cage! It's all I can do to find the leash. Here, boy, where are you? Here, boy, time to go for a walk. Come, boy, I'm your master, the head of the family!

Equally interesting, at the moment, is the question of who will be chosen later in the year as the female Wisconsin member of the national committee.

Mrs. Vel Phillips, a Milwaukee alderman, was chosen four years ago but has not been especially active in her role. She was chosen largely at Lucey's insistence and her re-election will probably be a test of Lucey's continued power in the party. One reason why opposition to her second term may be difficult to organize, in the context of the times, is that she is one of the most prominent

They took over the cable office and halted cable services from the island. They also held the airport, and no planes were allowed to take off or land. Only faulty telephone communications were open.

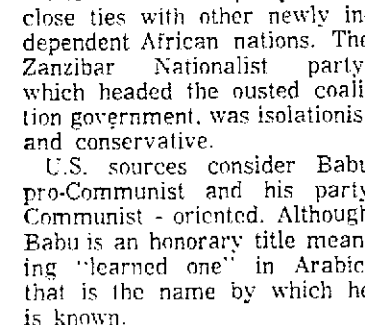

The revolt occurred a month and two days after Zanzibar gained independence. It was a British protectorate for 73 years. Zanzibar remained in the British Commonwealth. The rebel broadcasts gave no indication that this tie would be broken.

The rebel station said Sheikh Abeid Karume, head of the Afro-Shirazi party, was named president of the new republic. Sheikh Abdul Rahman Mohamed Babu, whose Umma party was banned earlier this month for reportedly trying to incite a revolt, was named prime minister. Kassim Hanga was made prime minister.

The Afro-Shirazi party favors close ties with other newly independent African nations. The Zanzibar Nationalist party, which headed the ousted coalition government, was isolationist and conservative.

U.S. sources consider Babu pro-Communist and his party Communist-oriented. Although Babu is an honorary title meaning "learned one" in Arabic, that is the name by which he is known.

Babu was in Dar-es-Salaam conferring with Tanganyikan President Julius Nyerere when the revolt broke out.

Tomah Couple To Repeat Vows In 75th Year

TOMAH (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hunt will celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary next Sunday when they repeat the vows that have bound them in 75 years of marriage.

Rev. Charles Warder, pastor of the Tomah Baptist Church, will perform the ceremony in the couple's home. The Hunts' oldest son and daughter, Virgil C. Hunt of Baraboo and Mrs. Frank Wenz of San Francisco, will attend them.

The Hunts moved to Tomah in 1914, some 25 years after their wedding Jan. 17, 1889 in Polk City, Iowa where they met a year earlier at a revival meeting.

Hunt, who will be 95 on April 7, began his career as a cattle buyer but early in his married life he turned to the timber business.

Looking forward to the anniversary Mrs. Hunt, who was 91 on Sept. 27, said, "We have lots of diamonds, our children."

"How can you say going steady is wrong?"

100,000 Follow Bodies

Panama City's streets were deserted Sunday night, but earlier in the day as many as 100,000 turned out in the capital to follow the bodies of 14 countrymen killed in the fighting. Most of the 14 were students.

After funeral services in the Metropolitan Cathedral, the coffins were carried eight miles to the Jardin de Paz (Garden of Peace) Cemetery. President Roberto Chiari led the mourners.

While the OAS delegation appeared to have set up machinery to keep the peace along the canal, major issues between the United States and Panama remained unsettled.

Panama broke relations with the United States because of the fighting. At the same time it renewed demands for revision of the U.S.-Panamanian treaty under which the United States occupies the Canal Zone. Mann and Vance are expected to arrange for discussions of these problems.

U. S. Citizens Warned

In an effort to remove one source of friction, President Johnson's administration warned all U.S. citizens in the Canal Zone that they must abide by a U.S. - Panamanian agreement of last year that whenever flags are flown in the zone, the U.S. and Panamanian flags will be flown side by side.

U.S. high school students in the zone defied this order last week and raised the American flag. Panamanian students retaliated Thursday with a flag-raising of their own in the zone, and the violence mushroomed.

American officials accused Panamanian supporters of Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba of taking a hand in the anti-American demonstrations. President Chiari himself said earlier that Castroites had infiltrated the ranks of anti-American demonstrators.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in Washington Sunday night that Castro - Communist elements probably saw in the flag incident "an opportunity to... stimulate violence."

Rusk said the United States cannot afford to pull out of the Canal Zone and that he has not heard any responsible leader raise that point. He disagreed with any suggestion that the disorders had harmed U.S. Latin American policy.

Reynolds at White House For Discussion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds called at the White House Saturday to discuss with President Johnson his declared drive against poverty.

Also attending the conference, according to a Reynolds aide, were Govs. Edmund G. Brown of California and Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey.

The governors reportedly were questioned by the President on ways in which the states could aid the federal government in alleviating poverty in the nation.

Reynolds, who arrived Thursday, also conferred during his stay with Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, on the college construction program.

The new report—14 months in the making — cited cigarette smoking as the major cause of lung cancer, a significant cause of cancer of the larynx, and associated it with a number of other cancers from those of the oral cavity to the bladder.

Group Urges Action

And there was an association — but not yet a proof of cause — between cigarettes and heart and blood vessel disease, and peptic ulcers.

So strong is the evidence of health hazard, the committee said, that it called for corrective action.

The surgeon general's Advisory Committee on Smoking and Health surprised most observers with the strength of its denunciation of cigarette smoking, pending on public demand, and Even an official of the American Cancer Society, long an enemy of cigarettes, said he was pleasantly surprised by the forthrightness of the report.

Agencies Cautious

latory federal agencies—despite cancer and other disease, but assurances the report would be sales soon recovered.

The Tobacco Institute, speaking for the industry, reiterated earlier stands it has made to the lung cancer charges.

George V. Allen, institute president, said the surgeon general's report would get careful study and that it was not the last chapter in the cigarette story. He called for more research. Few persons close to the situation even avowed enemies of smoking—consider the possibility of a prohibition of cigarettes. Even Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., said in her recent book attacking smoking that prohibition would not work.

Prepares 2 Bills

But she does plan to introduce two bills this week, one to put a cautionary label on cigarettes, the other to start a federal educational program against cigarette smoking.

The success of either proposal will certainly depend on the economic impact on 750,000 tobacco-producing farm families. Sales slid when the American Cancer Society in 1954 linked smoking to a shorter life, lung
